East Side High School 1987.

An old but interesting section of East Side High School.

Summer Fun in the Winter

On December 6, 1985, the Junior Class held its Sixth Annual Splash Party at the Holiday Inn. Shortly after 6:00 P.M. approximately sixty East Side students, teachers, and their friends left school and made their way for some "summer fun in the winter."

As soon as everyone had donned their bathing suits, bikinis and in such cases as the Teen Rebels, straw hats and Hawaiian shorts the fun began.

The girls were caught up in a series of getting out of the pool and being thrown back in. Meanwhile, the boys modestly displayed their diving skills.

Dinner, which consisted of lasagna, meatballs, barbecued chicken, spare ribs, and a variety of delicious desserts was served mid-way through the evening.

After dinner everyone began to relax. The girls disappeared into the girl's sauna and the boys into the boy's sauna, though, not necessarily in that order.

The atmosphere was one of easy friendliness. All thoughts of school were forgotten as we all enjoyed such activities as dancing around the pool, playing ball and splashing in the water, posing for pictures or just sitting pool side with our friends.

As the evening drew to a close, a more serene mood prevailed.

Couples returned to the pool for a last dance. It was slow and romantic, which gave the night a final and special touch.

As long as there are Splash Parties there will be East Siders to enjoy them.

Americo Evaristo, Michael Pimental, Gary Verdes, Jack Nata, Tony Martinez take time out to be immortalized by the photographer.

Spring Adventure

During the week of March 30-April 3, 1986, the junior class and Mr. Chill sponsored a trip to Florida, a first time ever event.

We departed from Newark Airport and arrived in Atlanta for a connecting flight and then we flew on to the "Sunshine State" for a week long adventure. Upon arrival in Orlando we were met by our tour guides.

The first night a meeting was held by the travel agent who explained the itinerary for the week.

Afterwards some students went for a late-night swim in the hotel pool or explored International Drive with its interesting shopping arcade.

Epcot Center is made up of two parts. The Future World, a place of new ideas and innovations in communications, energy and transportation.

The other part is the World Showcase which shows the accomplishments and cultures of many European countries. There were many activities for us to do and see in all of these interesting places.

In Italy, Robert Pachana and David Fortenberry were found viewing street actors performing a funny skit entitled "Dennis the Menace of Venice" and also seen there was Mike Zamora taste-testing the pizza to compare it to Down Neck's finest. Seen in other countries were Carmela Rodriguez having her portrait painted in France and Keer Burley purchasing souvenirs in Morocco and Germany.

Some East Siders were found at Disney World as well as Epcot Center in many of the following places: The Jungle Cruise, The Haunted Mansion, Carousel of Progress or Space Mountain.

On our free time some of us also visited Sea World, El Mercado (a shopping mall) and the Elvis Presley Museum.

Students, teachers and their guests enjoyed an exciting time during their spring break. This trip was a great success for all.

One of the major attractions at the Magic Kingdom is Cinderella's Castle.

Robert Pachana smiles as his friend Mickey Mouse waves hello.

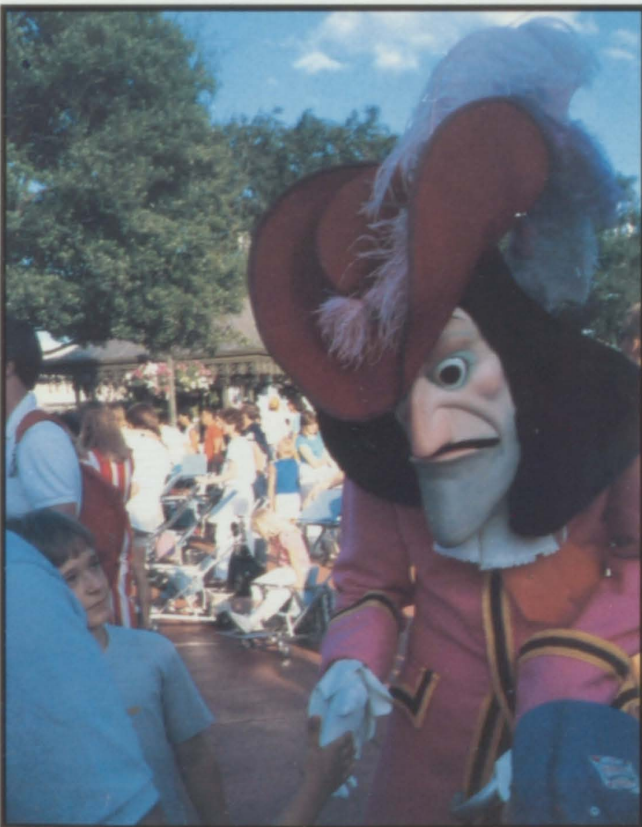

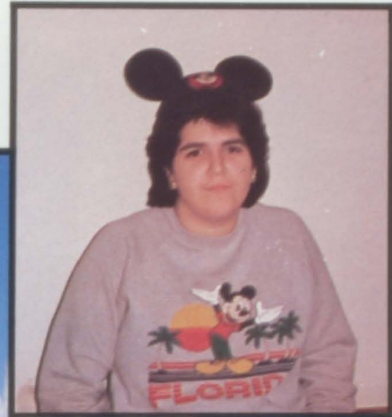

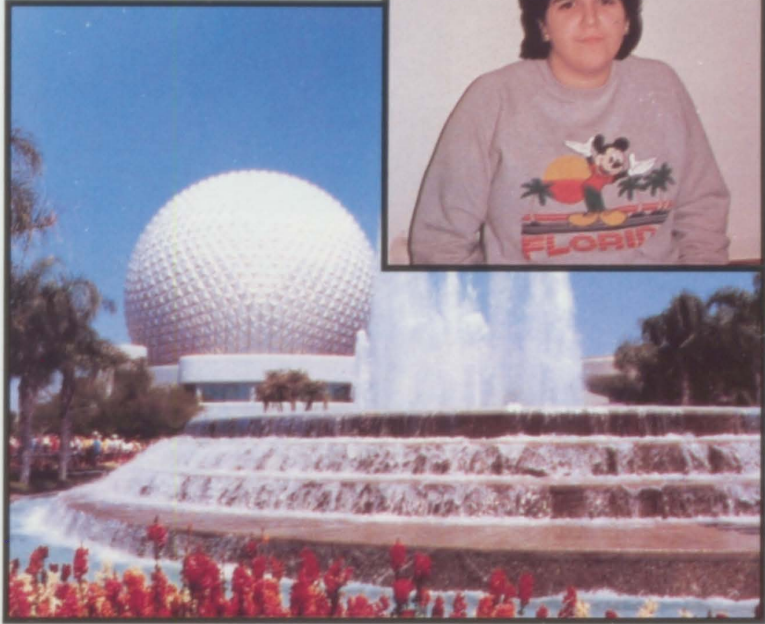

Taking time out to pose for a picture were Mr. Chill and Mr. DiFrancesco.

Stars on the Move

Stars are within our reach to explore and contemplate. We as rising stars have seen a change physically, mentally, and spiritually in our lives.

Through out our four years we have learned to understand and appreciate one another and together form the school spirit and unity that depicts the perfect constellation of stars.

We have also put pride in ourselves and built a strong academic as well as a social foundation for our lives will not end here.

As rising stars we will continue to grow, develop, and build confidence in our undertakings based on the skills and values we learned at East Side High School.

As our years at East Side come to an end and the thought of leaving begins to set in, there are feelings of uncertainty mixed with anticipation. Ideas for the future shine in our minds of what we will become. Our climb as "Rising Stars" begins.

There are endless paths to choose from. Picking the correct one is sometimes a difficult task, but teachers and counselors help to guide us as we make decisions.

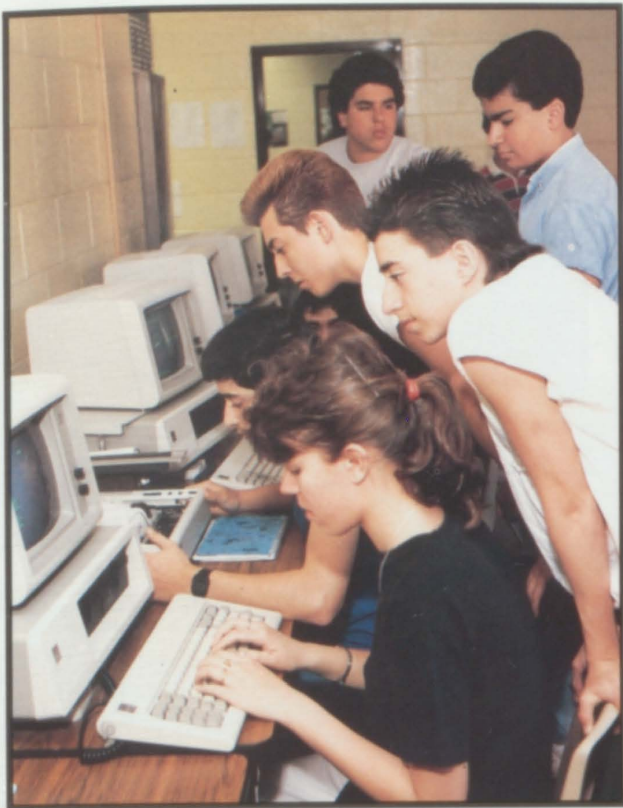

During this confusing time, however, there are shining moments. No one is likely to forget the Splash Parties, Disney World, the Prom, or the anticipation of our trip to the Poconos.

In our years at East Side High School, we as "Rising Stars" have developed a great sense of achievement and character.

Throughout our four years many students have proven just what stars they can be from a performing star, to a football star, to an achievement star.

So as we draw close to graduation day, we grow more hopeful in that we will reach our goals and fulfill our dreams.

Leaving will bring sadness but we leave knowing that we are "Stars On The Move."

Stars Perform at East Side

During the course of Rock 'N' Roll history, many great artists have come and gone. They make their mark with one big hit and then are never heard from again. It takes an enormous amount of talent to withstand the test of time in a business where you're hot or you're not.

This year, Ms. Savidis decided to spark some electricity by bringing rising stars to perform at East Side. She and her industrial art group decided on Backstreets.

Backstreets is a band whose name is well known along Jersey's shore as a Bruce Springsteen type band.

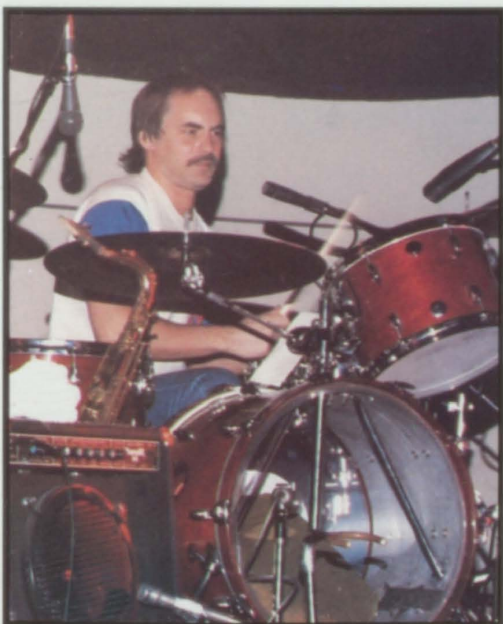

As the concert date drew close there was much expectation concerning the event. Was Backstreets going to live up to everyone's expectations? The reaction from the audience proved that they surpassed all expectations.

On May 23rd the auditorium vibrated as it never did before. The band played for two energetic hours and then finally had a break. During this time the crowd transferred to the cafeteria for pizza, refreshments, and music by D.J. TIX.

After intermission students returned to the auditorium for another hour.

The Backstreets concert ended with a bang as they played a final, "Jersey Girl."

It left the girls screaming for more and started memorial weekend off just right.

Almost Paradise

On the evening of May 2nd, 1986 at the Casa Stoia Restaurant a feeling of excitement and frenziness was in the air. Mr. Chill, the Junior Class Advisor, welcomed the radiant couples as they made their debut at the Junior Prom. The usual crowd in jeans and sneakers took on a more formal look in dazzling gowns, elegant tuxedos and delicate corsages.

The evening progressed as D.J. Freddy Freak played the theme song, "Almost Paradise." Everyone then moved on to an appetizing buffet-style dinner, a pleasing change from the usual peanut butter and jelly sandwiches served in the cafeteria.

An added touch to this special gala was the coronation of Paul Sousa and Sandra Migoyo as King and Queen of the Prom. More dancing and socializing continued as the evening came to an end when once again the theme song was played.

The pictures will remain in the scrapbooks but May 2nd will forever be engraved in the hearts of those who for one evening lived the reality of "Almost Paradise."

Stars R Us

Bright lights! Dazzling costumes! Shining performers! An event long awaited by many was a few minutes away as friends and relatives eagerly searched for an empty seat in the already packed auditorium. As you may have guessed this event was the Fashion show held April 18 and 19, 1986.

The show consisted of two categories; fashion and talent. In the fashion category students modeled one of this year's most popular styles, the Miami Vice look. Later in the show the look and glamour of Dynasty was featured. In between modeling some students demonstrated their abilities in singing and dancing by portraying some of today's hottest stars.

Such portrayals of Barbra Streisand by Paula Garcia, Whitney

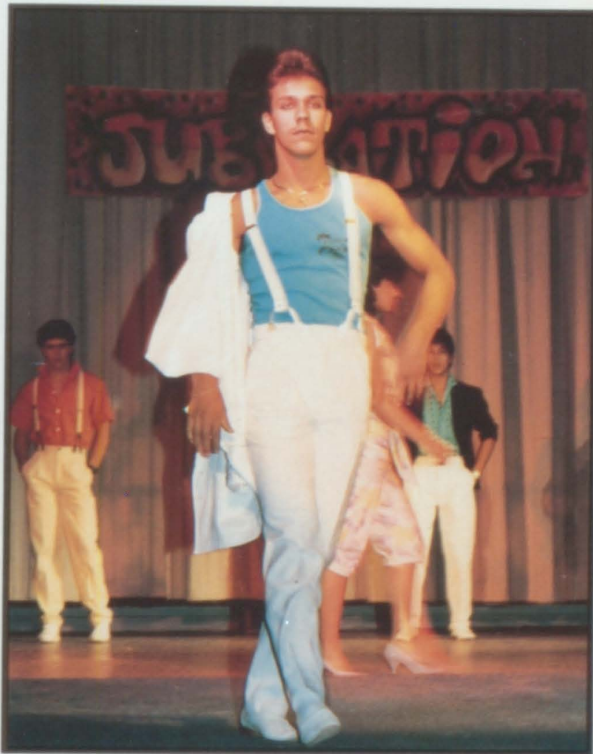

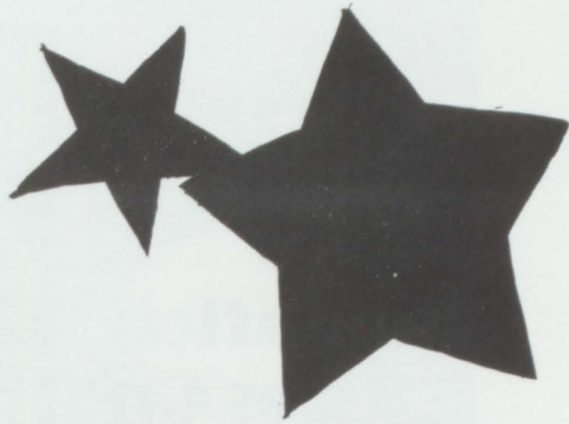

Houston by Keer Burley, Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band by Raymond Montalvo and his group, the band Wham with Gary Verdes portraying George Michael were some of the show's attractions. This year an extra was added to the program. For the very first time we had our own group of Chippendale's. The girls jumped, cheered, and screamed "take it all off," during their dance routine.

As the evening came to an end the performers went on stage for one last time. Mr. Krolin thanked the audience for their support and the performers for a wonderful show. Jubilation came to a close, but the smiles remained on everyone's faces as they walked out of the auditorium discussing the night's entertainment.

Michael Pimentel can sure spark the fire with his dazzling moves.

Beauty and grace can surely define Paula Garcia during her exquisite performance as Barbra Streisand.

SPORTS

East Siders have always been good at whatever they do, especially in the sports area, and this year was no exception.

The Red Raiders performed exceedingly well in all aspects of their particular game.

In the fall, the football and soccer teams worked hard and proved that they could succeed.

In the winter, the boys' and girls' basketball teams were again forces in the city and showed the fighting spirit of the athletes until the last ticking seconds of the clock.

The Ice Hockey team made the most of their talents and again had an exceptional season.

East Side's track and cross-country teams, always a power house in the city and county championships, continued to work hard toward improving their talents.

As spring arrived the tennis, baseball, and softball teams had some very impressive records, which gave them the ambition to improve from the previous year.

Keeping up with the long tradition of excellence is not always easy. But these athletes work hard to try their best in every game, meet or match, to make East Siders proud of them and their chosen sport.

A Star Season

When the baseball season began, it was projected to be a "rebuilding year," because of young and inexperienced players on the team. But, with the guidance of Coach Blasi and Assistant Coach Anthony Moreno the team played every game with aggressiveness, confidence and the desire to win.

The season ended with a 10-14 overall record, with nine of those losses by two runs or less. East Side concluded the City League with an excellent 8-4 record, finishing second to Vailsburg.

The Red Raiders also participated in the Westfield Tournament, placing a very impressive second, again behind Vailsburg.

Whenever Coach Blasi needs a pinch hitter, baserunner, or a late replacement, he can always turn to his "veteran" team members like Frank Garcia, Luis Troche, William Castro, Jose Alvarado, Mark Griggs, or Victor Plantenyys and get the hit, stolen base, or the clutch performance that will give East Side the runs needed for another victory.

William Castro obtains one of his many base hits during the season.

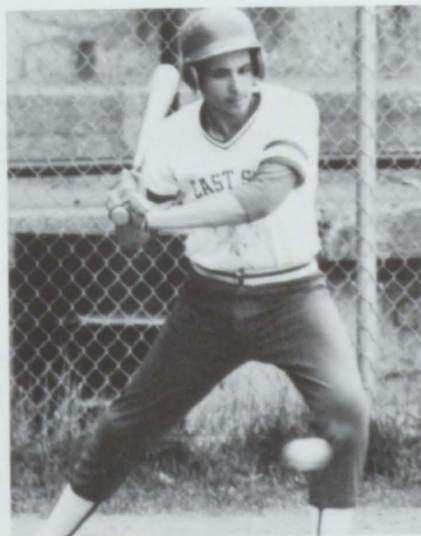

Victor Plantenyys making the long throw from third to first to catch the runner by a step.

A Season Of Star Playing

Looking back it was a season of hard work, dedication and a chance to be the next city champions . . .

The team honed their skills against several out of city teams in an effort to prepare for the city schedule. As fate would have it, the toughest competition would come in the beginning of the season; the team knew what they had to do to win: play good fundamental softball — every game.

With renewed fervor previous experience became evident; strong pitching brought 4 no-hitters, tough defense made key plays look routine and combined with powerful batting East Side won the next sixteen games and remained undefeated for the city title.

Success agreed with them as several players garnished post season honors:

Tennis Team Places Third

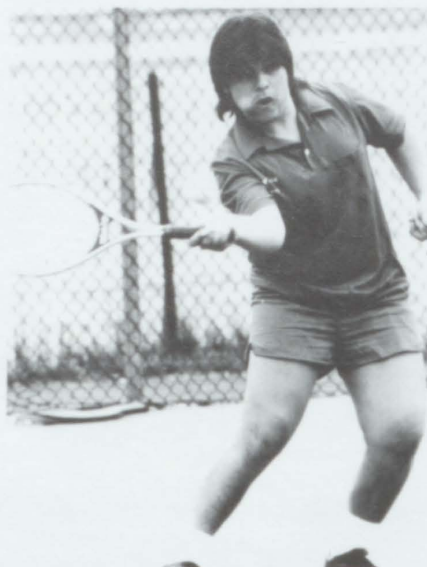

Last season our tennis team accomplished a feat that will be remembered for many years to come. The team captured third place in the Newark City Tournament held at Branch Brook Park.

Coached by Mr. Bayone, the team members were Paul Gomes, Tony Lobo, Paul Carlos, Tony Vieira and Rui Soares.

These members made the most of their abilities and strengths by pulling together for a good season.

Mr. Bayone, who is known for his ability to gather good and exciting players, looks forward to next season.

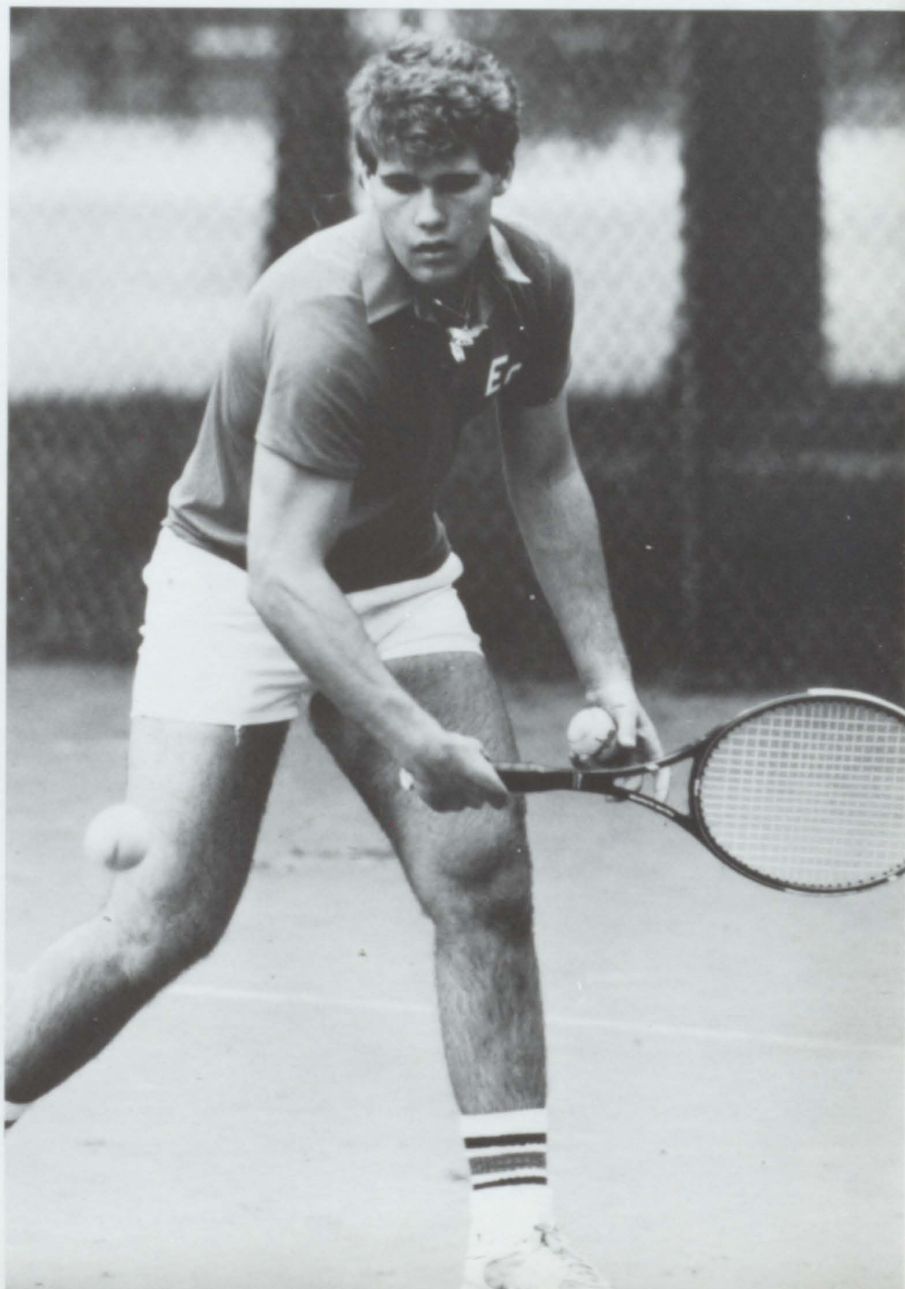

We are sure they will bring back those magical moments of glory.

Triple Crown Winners

The East Side track team put together a tremendous season. Their accomplishments were highlighted by becoming the first team in the Newark City League to win the triple crown. The championships include the cross-country, indoor and outdoor.

These runners completed the 1987 season ranked number one in the 880 relay. Number three in the two mile relay and number two in the Distance Medley in the State of New Jersey. The boys team is headed by seniors, captain, Carlos Martins, Carlos Gafanha, Paulo Jaco, Troy Simpson, Todd Williams, Joao Paul Sousa, Julio Rivera, Wilfredo Jimenez and Maria Quezada.

Hope and Determination

The 1986 East Side football team was full of hope and determination, because many of the quality players would be back on the team.

East Side ended the season with a one win to eight loss record, but five of those losses were ten points or less. The highlight for the players came when they achieved victory over Vailsburg High. With only seconds left to play in the game East Side scored on a safety, ending the game with a tough win.

Despite all the efforts of the veteran team members such as Kevin Miller, Todd Williams, Al-Amin Crews, Tony Rogers, Troy Simpson and Dennis Johnson, the team could not put together a winning streak. The last game was played against Barringer, which is ranked 14th in the state. The Raiders played their hearts out as always, but failed in their attempt for victory.

However, something was accomplished — they scored a touchdown against Barringer High — a feat no other team in the Newark City League could do.

Coach Russell has his work cut out for him next season, but with young and determined players, dedicated fans can look forward to another exciting season.

Transition Period

For the 1986 East Side soccer team, the season was mainly a transition period, because they had to adapt to the philosophies of a new coach and get to know all the new players on the team. The season ended with a 4-9-2 record, five of those losses to exceptional teams, including a loss to the number one team in the state, Kearny High.

Playing under a new coach, Ms. Megaro, the team demonstrated noticeable progress, that hopefully will carry into the upcoming seasons. The team was led by sophomore Fernando Cuco, and juniors Jose Vilas and Agustin Barreiras, each showed good dribbling skills and great natural abilities.

With so many young players on the team, willing to work hard to achieve greatness, fans can look forward to another exciting and improved season ahead. As Fernando Cuco, one of the two captains stated, "Coming into the season, we all knew about the young players on the team, but we stuck together, and built some momentum for the future."

Character Builder

The East Side Boys Basketball Team completed their season with a record of 10 wins and 11 losses. For the third consecutive year, the Red Raiders finished in third place in the city league.

With only one senior, Marc Inman, on the team in position of guard, East Side demonstrated exceptional character as well as tremendous togetherness to pull out some great victories throughout the season.

Every game East Side was involved in was close and usually down to the wire.

This year the team also changed "history" by winning for the first time in 11 years the Hillside Christmas Tournament and beating Central High School twice in a season — this had not been done since 1974.

Individually, Danen Hicks certainly had a terrific season. He led the team in scoring with a 22.5 ppg. average and set school records in blocked shots and rebounds and also in triple doubles (points, rebounds, blocks).

Asked about the prospects for next year, Coach Duggan said, "Our goal is for us to continue to grow in character and ability and continue to work toward a city championship."

Improving Season

The girl's basketball team ended their season with a record of 4-14 showing noticeable improvement over the last couple of years. The team coached by Mr. Tosun finished fifth in the City League, ahead of Barringer and West Side.

The Red Raiders were led by the two seniors on the squad, by Irma "Smurf" Gamez, known as an excellent ballhandler and shooter and Isabel Ribeiro with her strong rebounding. The team also consisted of junior Mary Lee Grimes, sophomores Maria Vieira and Jean Motea and freshmen Lia Cunha, Katrina Arrington and Jeannie Powell.

Asked about this year's team Coach Tosun stated, "We started with a dynamite nucleus with four returning seniors. However, two had to leave and the burden was left on Irma and Isabel. They responded extremely well and everybody did their best to improve. As a whole it was a gratifying experience for all."

The East Side Indoor Track Team has put together another tremendous season. They have won the Indoor Championship for the third year in a row. Their accomplishments were highlighted by an appearance in the invitational high school mile relay in the meadowlands arena.

These runners rank among the best in the state of New Jersey. The New Jersey Star Ledger Newspaper ranked East Side runners in eight different categories. The future of East Side Track looks bright. The underclassmen work hard and love the program at East Side. We will succeed.

Dedicated Players

The East Side High School Ice Hockey team has definitely made a name for themselves. Previously, they had won a major division championship title.

Numerous hours were put into practice at Ironbound Stadium both by the players and their coach.

Players Tommy Borger and Todd Blozen held many teams to very few scores and they helped lead the team to victory. They both should be commended for their play and leadership abilities. All players demonstrated hard work both as a team and as individuals.

With all the talent on this team much credit should go to their coach, Rudy Blozen, whose leadership and guidance has inspired, as well as motivated, them to go out and do their very best.

After winning the face-off, Joe Buonopane skates off to the offensive zone.

Todd Blozen stops the puck, for his defenseman to move it down the ice.

CLUBS/ ACTIVITIES

East Side students have always relied on clubs and activities to keep active and involved throughout the school year.

From attending a Civics Club dance to just listening to a club report; we look forward to our extra-curricular activities.

They have always offered a change from the regular classes and give us a chance for getting involved.

These activities have not only been lots of fun, but they have also provided some very rewarding experiences.

For example, the Tessalations club not only enriches our mathematical abilities, but it has given us a chance to enter the New Jersey Math League contest which has been most rewarding.

Working on the yearbook has provided us with an insight into the journalistic world. We found that it takes discipline, organization, writing skills and love for A.M. meetings.

All the extra-curricular activities help create an atmosphere here of unity and a sense of working together in forming that all important school spirit.

Just Splashing Around

On December 5, 1986 at the Holiday Inn in Elizabeth, N.J., members of the senior class got together to enjoy the annual Splash Party. This activity is one in which Seniors look forward to each year. Mr. Chill and the class officers work hard in arranging this exciting event.

The party began at 7:00 p.m. at which time the buffet was beautifully served. It consisted of: trays of cold cuts, lasagna, fried chicken, roast beef, and assorted pickles, olives and breads, as well as delicious desserts such as chocolate pudding, fruit salads and chocolate cakes.

After everyone finished eating we all headed for the pool and sauna where we spent most of the night talking and dancing. Towards the end of the evening things really started to roll when Arthur Guedes and Paul Carlos threw Mr. Chill and Mr. Andraous into the pool.

It was a wonderful evening for those who attended. We look forward to many Splash Parties and other activities in the future.

Rising Stars

Hard work, team effort, time and dedication; that's what it's all about. The staff meets every morning at 7:30 in room 363 to prepare and assemble the various sections of the book.

Headlines, captions, layouts, and body copy must all tie into the theme. Besides all of the above, we still must meet our deadlines set by the printer. With the help of Dr. Pellegrino we are able to get a very difficult job done to the best of our ability. We began this yearbook in the Spring of 1986 by having group sessions where we exchanged ideas, concerns, and began the challenge of producing a yearbook. Dr. Pellegrino asked those who were artistically talented to submit their ideas for a cover design. Sketches were submitted and Luis Rosario's design was selected.

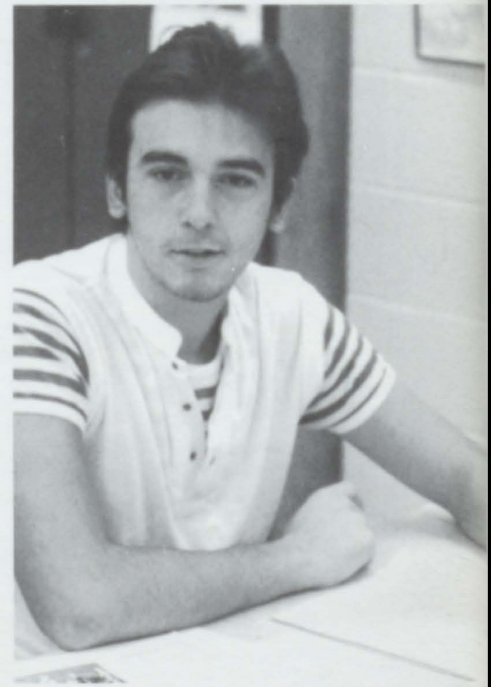

In the fall of '86, selections were made for the various positions and we were on our way. Everyone had equal responsibility to their assigned sections and with lots of work and dedication along with many lost lunch periods; we were able to produce one of the best yearbooks to date.

The Winner is . . .

On November 7, 1986 the Second Annual Homecoming Queen Dance was held.

This year there were 16 outstanding contestants all competing for Homecoming Queen. Participants were selected on the basis of poise, personality, appearance and their public speaking ability.

For the second year, the special guest star was Antonio Fargas, co-star of Starsky and Hutch. The Homecoming Queen Dance was sponsored by the Winterguard. The judges consisted of Winterguard officers along with Mr. Grant.

During the previous week, contestants were interviewed about their feelings toward a Homecoming Queen's responsibilities. They each received a score for their response. By week's end all scores were tallied and the top five winners were known to the committee.

The winner was announced at the dance, where she received the title and crown along with a dozen roses. Martha Bahamon was the winner, who exemplifies the ideal of Homecoming Queen. Martha is very active in various school related activities and is co-editor of the clubs section of the '87 yearbook.

As a Senior, Martha looks forward to representing her school in this all important event.

A Perfect Combination

As always the band and cheerleaders have been a great inspiration in bringing out that all important sense of togetherness. Whether it be at our football games or at a parade they have always been there to cheer us on.

This year was no exception, with the help of cheerleader advisor Mr. Cornick, the cheerleaders were able to keep the fans cheering and team winning as they demonstrated skill, gymnastics, timing and precision as their routines were performed. Along with the cheerleaders the band also strutted their stuff as hot tunes were played such as "Land of Make Believe" and "Cosmos." Although many hours of hard work and practice go into this activity, it is certainly worth the effort when their routines are performed.

Showing school spirit, our mascot, The Red Raider, really knows we are number one.

Clubs For Everyone

The Dungeons and Dragons club is a small organization that is made up of several students who enjoy playing fantasy adventure games. During their weekly meetings the members can actually act out assigned characters and stimulate an adventure that is graphed out on a map with scenery of a particular place and time, going as far back as the 12th century.

Throughout the year they have fund-raisers to purchase lead figures which are used to illustrate the members characters. They also have dances and field trips to the local video game store.

Another active club is the Student Council with members made up of homeroom representatives who play an important role in our school. The activities this year consist of decorating the Christmas tree, opening the trading post, and a Mr. and Mrs. East Side Day. These are but a few of the various activities the Student Council has accomplished.

As part of graduation exercises a special ceremony is held in June, in which the Senior class have their traditional farewell. This year a committee of 14 members, made up the Honor Guard which was on hand as the Torch was passed to the Junior class. This ceremony is a part of a long tradition at East Side High.

TORCH HONOR GUARD: Ilda Cardoso, Maria Alves, Mary Ferreira, Maria Farinhas, Patricia Puibilo, Grace Faustino, Martha Bahamon, Linda Da Silva, Natercia Ribau, Helena Henriques, Maria Borges, Maria Barbosa, Emily Nunes, Anabela Marques.

One of the most interesting and exciting clubs is the Drama Club advised by Mr. Krolin. This activity allows those students who are talented and interested in the performing arts a chance to model, sing and dance. It is an event enjoyed by many.

A major component for a successful Fashion Show is the help of the stage crew. With their help, effort, work and dedication they are able to keep the lights, camera and music all in synch.

For those students interested in Math, the Tesselations Club is both an educational and fun club. The club provides an insight on many math related subjects such as optical illusions and polyhedrons. With Mrs. Di Piazza and Ms. Polakowski we are able to comprehend and enjoy these interesting topics as well as compete in the New Jersey Math League.

Besides Academics . . .

The Portuguese club is a club which encourages the Portuguese language on a conversational level. The members learn to appreciate the culture of the country and participate in activities relating to the Portuguese people. Some of these activities include luncheons involving foods from native lands and visiting interesting sites related to the Portuguese culture. Along with that, the club has various fund raisers such as candy sales for their annual picnic.

The Portuguese Literary Magazine also known as the "Os Academicos" offer students the opportunity for experiences and positive contributions in a literary vein. These students involved with "Os Academicos" have great dedication and offer outstanding contributions of literary merit to the magazine.

The French club is concerned with the many interesting foods, different holiday customs and interesting landmarks found in the City of Paris. All of which help to make up the French Culture. Also under discussion are plans for their first trip to Montreal, Canada, where the members will be able to speak French and enjoy the foods, people, and explore the general ambiance of the country. In addition the club sponsors fund raisers such as posters, mirrors, and candy sales. The French club has its end of the year picnic and trophies are awarded to the Senior members during the awards assembly program in June.

Technology is the basis for tomorrow's future. Here members of the Computer Club can easily work on a computer and learn its basic language. The Computer Club through such fund raisers as personalized Valentine cards, the ranking of all the Senior class members, and computer generated posters has earned their own monies for transportation. During the course of the school year the club participates in special field trips to AT&T, Newark and various other corporations in New Jersey.

The Civics Club is advised by Mr. Molinaro, together with club members they have such fund raisers as candy sales, which enables them to contribute money to the various departments in our school. In addition the members have field trips to the 9th Avenue Street Fair in New York City, and guest speakers such as Jessie Kazowitz from the Ironbound Educational and Cultural Center and the representatives of the Candy Strippers from St. James Hospital. Also as part of membership in this club all participants receive red and white jackets and at the end of the year dinner Senior members receive trophies for their efforts.

The Choir Jay is made up of qualified young ladies and gentlemen who want to pursue a career in singing. They have participated in many outstanding activities such as performing for the Board of Education, Saint James Hospital, Senior Citizen Day, as well as the lighting of the Christmas tree at the Ironbound Educational and Cultural Center. Throughout the year, Choir Jay attends operas at Symphony Hall in Newark, New Jersey and many fund raisers such as musical shows like, the annual Spring concert, and Christmas concerts held here in East Side High School. This money eventually goes for Choir Jay uniforms, music tools, podiums and also for the trophies awarded to any member who has participated in the choir for four years.

A Different Atmosphere

The announcer is the schools newspaper which helps publicize the happenings in the school. It has many interesting topics about student activities.

At East Side High School the Library serves as the center for instructional materials and equipment. Its function is to locate, select, organize, provide, and coordinate these materials and equipment in order to reinforce the curriculum, implement learning, and work with teachers and administration to develop library programs. Here the students learn the use of the library as a source of knowledge, enjoyment, and inspiration. The library provides a non-classroom setting where students learn to work alone and in groups under the guidance of their teachers and the librarians. In this way, it contributes to the growth of independent thinking, develops techniques of studying effectively, and provides an atmosphere for developing desirable attitudes toward reading and communication.

The purposes and objectives of the weightlifting club are based on the techniques of the whole background of the weight lifting theory. For example the club emphasizes the proper method of repetitions and sets in lifting weights. Also, it enhances the importance of weight lifting in an individual's health, muscle development, strength, endurance, and in all areas of athletics. Each member can benefit from this activity by working on his own work-out at his own pace. The weight lifting instructor corrects members every week and improves their use of the equipment according to the length of time spent at the gym. The members can create a feeling of togetherness which motivates each individual to further pursue weight lifting at home or at a local YMCA.

The Future Nurses is a small club made up of students who are interested in the nursing profession. They discuss and explore the many different entry levels into nursing; offer the member an opportunity to explore nursing careers and provide personal experiences about different health care. The members are also given a chance to listen to guest speakers from various hospitals provided by the Career Orientation Program.

Along with the Future Nurses, the Servettes also provide opportunities for students to serve the school at various functions. This club helps to give these dedicated students a sense of pride.

In addition to the future nurses and servettes this year we have a newly formed club where its members discuss current events in Science and its new break throughs. It is called the Science Fair Club. This year the club is going to visit the North Jersey Regional Science Fair in Morristown, New Jersey. So far the Science club has had some fund raisers like candy sales, and posters in order to take trips to the Museum of Natural History in New York and to the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia. Its members are very interested in science.

School Spirit Is Alive

The winterguard advised by Dr. Grant and instructed by Keith McCormick is an all year round activity starting off in the Fall. This Spring they competed against all other guards Nationwide from New York to California. The guard meets every Saturday from 8 am to 4 pm and weekdays after school to practice the drill and perfect those triple turnaround catches. The guard performs to songs such as "Venus" and "Boy Gun" and the drills last for approximately 5 minutes. The guard this year is National Champs and has taken best rifles, sabors, and flags at almost every performance they've given. This year they visited Ohio, New York, and various locations in New Jersey for competitions. This activity provides a great deal of fun, new friendships, and most importantly the East Side School spirit.

Active People

The track club is basically a fund raising organization for the track team. The track club holds dances, sells boosters, calendars, and shirts as a means of raising money. This money in turn is needed in order to cut costs of trips to such events as the Penn. Relays, Colonial Relays, and Spingarn Invitational in Washington. The track club usually has a banquet at the end of each season and a picnic at the end of the year. The track club is like a family. They are very close and usually get together outside of school. They also help other community organizations in raising money. But most importantly the track club members work hard to see that the team has a successful season.

It is an honor to be selected as a member of the National Honor Society. Every year the top twenty-five students of the Senior class are chosen according to their grade point average of 3.5.

These students are inducted during a special ceremony held during an assembly program; in which the torch of knowledge pins, which is the symbol of the National Honor Society, is given to these honored students. For this special honor they must have in addition to a high grade point average a general involvement in school spirit.

The East Side Ski Club had another exceptionally good year. The club members have taken several day trips to Great Gorge and Vernon Valley along with elegant dinners at the Portuguese Manor and a beautiful fun-filled weekend trip to the Inn, located at the foot of Magic Mountain in Vermont. This is the thirteenth annual ski trip to Vermont and the fourth consecutive three day weekend. The club left very early on Friday, February 27th, for a five hour trip. On arrival, they found gamerooms, tennis, and squash courts along with swimming and sauna facilities very much to their liking. These conditions of course made for a successful time when the club hit the slopes. The club was accompanied by Mr. Afflito, club advisor, along with faculty members who helped make this a super ski weekend.

People

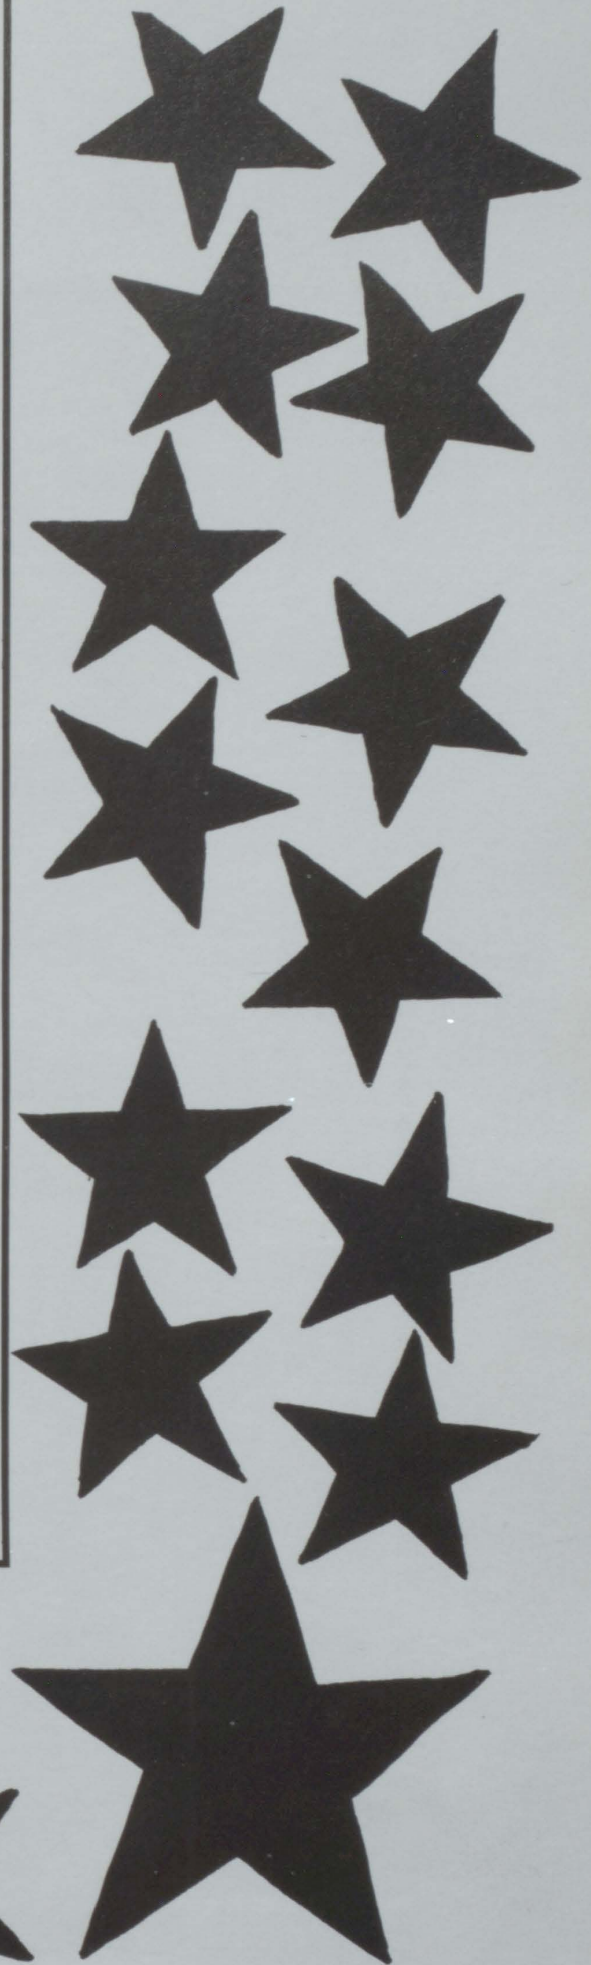

Looking back over our four years, the people who most encouraged and supported us were our teachers.

With their knowledge, guidance, and patience they have helped us to understand ourselves and have made us aware of the great opportunities available after graduation.

We all have certain classes and teachers that we look forward to seeing each day and these are the ones that we will remember when we recall our high school days.

We will never forget the times Mr. Molinaro, on the day of his "big" test, would wear the answers on a T-shirt under his jacket, or when we had to perform surgery when a tray of frogs was brought out in Ms. Gonnelli's biology class.

In years to come as we look through this book we will remember them not just as our teachers, but as our friends.

IN RECOGNITION

John J. Golba was born on September 15, 1939. He was raised in the Ironbound Section of Newark and attended St. Casimir's Grammar School and East Side High School.

Mr. Golba also attended Fairleigh Dickinson University as a Liberal Arts Major from 1960 to 1961. In December of 1961 he was appointed as a Patrolman in the Newark Police Department and assigned to the Third Precinct after graduation from the Police Academy.

In 1963 he married the former Joan Kuduk, and they are the proud parents of five children, Michelle, Debra, John Michael, Mary and Kristen.

In 1971 he was promoted to Sergeant and assigned to the East District where he became Commander of the Pickpocket Squad, a mini-tactical unit concentrating on street robberies and frauds in the downtown area. One of his most noticeable tasks was his recommendation for the formation of the Truancy Task Force to combat extensive truancy.

In 1974 he was promoted to Lieutenant and during this time he initiated and operated the first Crime Analysis Unit in the Newark Police Department.

In 1975, he received an Associate of Science Degree in Police Science from Rutgers University, where he graduated with honors.

Lieutenant Golba was assigned to the non-violent Crimes Bureau in 1979 and in 1981 he was made Captain. He was also elected to the top executive position in the Superior Officers' Association.

On July 10, 1986, Mayor Sharpe James appointed him Chief of Police.

It is with great pride and pleasure that the Class of 1987 awards the alumni of Superior Merit to such an outstanding, involved and dedicated Police Chief.

Executives At Work

During our High School years the administrators and department chairpersons have played an important role in our education by establishing school rules and regulations.

The department chairpersons help to maintain the high academic standards that East Side is known to have. They work with our Principal Mr. Wujciak and Vice-Principals in establishing school policies such as tardiness, cutting, lockers and use of the bathrooms.

Once a month Mr. Wujciak meets with class officers and Student Council members in order to improve school and community affairs.

Mr. Scardelli continues his great effort to help students by supervising the Basic Skills Program that has become a success and helped many students achieve scores above the cut off rate which is based on CTBS and MBS tests.

Thanks to their effort and support they have helped make us "rising stars."

Exploring Hidden Talents

Art and Music in some form are evident in everything we do in life.

Our art department encourages students to bring out certain hidden talents. This dedicated faculty through years of experience offers students skills and ideas of pursuing such careers in painting, drawing, crafts, commercial art, portraits, photography or just personal interest.

Our band under the new musical director, Mr. Baione continues their excellent performances and participates with pride and enthusiasm at school and community affairs.

Many students at East Side come from foreign countries with little understanding of the English language, nevertheless our bilingual teachers provide a pleasant atmosphere and enjoyable learning environment in order for the students to excel and master the English language.

We're On A Roll

Among the various programs of study offered, the Business program is one which has advanced at a considerable pace and is showing much promise.

Technology has become a major aspect of the Business world, thus, students must be exposed to such skills and equipment that will help them with their success in Business.

This year the Business Department has added eleven more IBM PC's, three printers, and one Lanier word processor to the Business classes. Also, next year word processing will be taught as a separate class.

However, this is not the end, because as Mrs. Ruggeri said, "Next year we hope to have a roomful of IBM PC's for students in accounting, bookkeeping, and typing classes."

With all this advancement, students are bound for success.

Minding Our Grammar

English classes have played an important role in developing our reading and writing skills.

Our teachers have helped us improve our skills by having us write essays, read short stories, and learn vocabulary words, which we are quizzed on weekly.

Throughout our four years at East Side we have read many novels written by some of the greatest authors, such as, "The Grapes of Wrath," "The Great Gatsby," and "The Natural." With the help of Mrs. Giantomasi and Mrs. Caamano we fully understand the true meaning of "MacBeth" and "Julius Caesar," a few of the finest plays ever written by William Shakespeare.

In addition to learning about the fine works of English and American Literature, we also had the opportunity in our SAT classes to strengthen our skills in vocabulary and reading comprehension. There our teacher, Mr. D'Errico, gives us tips on how to achieve a high score on our Scholastic Aptitude Test, which we all must take if we plan to attend college.

Helping Hands

The guidance department has played a substantial role in our education throughout our four years at East Side. As freshmen, they made us realize how these four years of schooling would affect our future goals and plans and as seniors, we feel that we were given the essential guidance to confront those goals and plans.

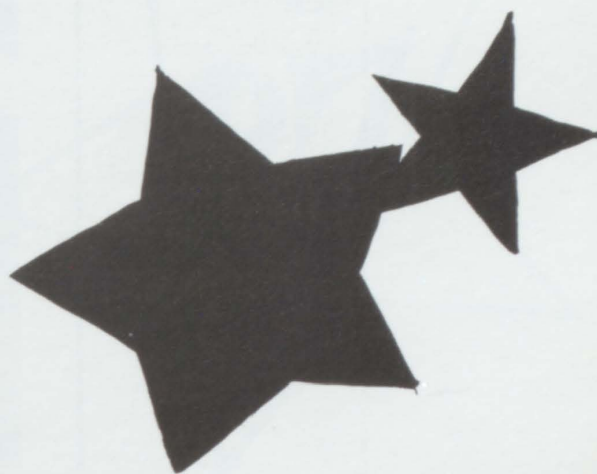

Our counselors were there to give us that extra push when we felt defeated, they encouraged us to reach our highest academic potential and always advised us about our problems and ideas. Through their knowledge and experience, Mrs. Figueiredo and Ms. Truszkowska are assisting us with our choices of colleges, filling out applications, and preparing us for life after East Side.

Another department which has broadened our minds is the foreign language department. With their assistance we have learned the various and interesting cultures of other countries.

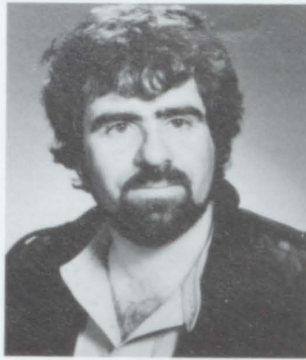

The students are allowed to choose classes of French, Italian, Portuguese, or Spanish from which they can reach a better understanding of the language and ways of life.

As students pass through the fourth floor, C Building they can see and hear the different countries being discussed, viewed, and admired.

With such guidance and knowledge, we feel confident of facing the challenging future that awaits us.

High Tech!

This year the Technical Department has advanced their programs by adding the use of computers to assist students with their work.

The Mechanical Drawing classes teach students how to construct and measure accurately using "Computer Aided Drafting Systems." This computer system produces their work faster and neater.

The Graphic Arts classes have begun using a "Phototypesetter" which is computer assisted. This system allows students the opportunity to construct a printed page on a monitor and then create a hand copy to be utilized in the reproduction process.

The Electronics classes will offer "Micro Computer Repair Programs" which allow students to learn how to repair an IBM computer.

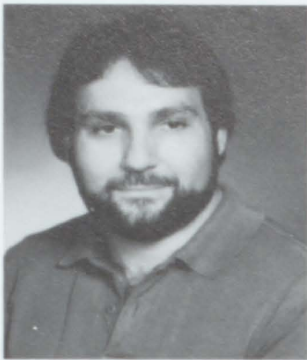

In the Auto Shop students are using a "Computerized Engine Analyzer." This machine lets them know exactly what is needed to repair a car.

In the Metal Shop we have a "Computerized Numerical Control System" (CNC) that is used as a teaching aid to expose students to computers and how they are used in industry to manufacture metal and plastic items.

In the Wood Shop students use a "Computer Assisted Wood Lathe," a machine that constructs all forms of shapes out of wood.

Another area of this department which has proved useful to us is Home Economics. Future plans for the Food and Clothing classes are for them to receive "Computer Software."

During an interview with Mr. Guarino, Department Chairperson, he was asked, "What does the department hope to accomplish by using computerized equipment in the classes?" His response, "The goal of the department is to keep pace with the technological changes and expose students to computerized industrial processes and practices."

Challenging The Numbers

The Math Department offers students such subjects as Algebra, Geometry, and for those who enjoy challenges, Calculus, Trigonometry, and Computer Science classes are also available. In addition, students receive further assistance with old skills in the Basic Skills classes and review for the SAT's in the SAT Skills classes.

For further challenges and fun, students can join the Tessellation Club which has joined the N.J. Math League, for the first time. There is a series of six tests in which the highest scoring individuals and groups are awarded prizes.

This experience allows students to test and compare their abilities with other students from the state of New Jersey.

With such experiences and knowledge that are obtained from the math teachers, students are prepared to deal with the mathematical problems of life.

Body Basics

The saying, "A healthy mind makes a healthy body," is certainly true at East Side. Physical Education classes allow us to take part in a wide variety of athletic sports, such as volleyball, basketball, and softball.

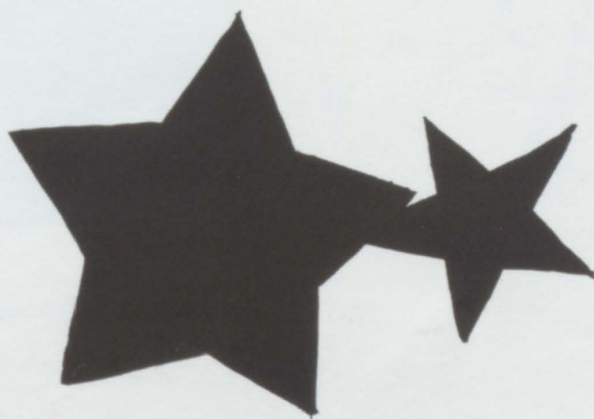

During the fall and winter we must play sports indoors. However, once warm weather arrives we are allowed to go outdoors to Independence Park to get some fresh air while we participate in the day's activity. Denise Tremarco and Andrea Andruchowitz can still feel the pain from Mrs. Alexander's constant drilling of the walk-run mile.

In our health classes we are taught the parts of the human body and how they function. Our health teachers let us know the importance of first aid so that we can help ourselves or others in case of an accident. Who can forget Mr. Zarro's lecture on, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

In our driving education classes we were taught the rules and regulations of the road and also, how harmful drinking and driving can be not only for us but for others as well.

With the help of our physical education and health teachers we now have the knowledge of understanding what is good for ourselves and for the well being of others.

John Roque positions himself for the pitch.

Theories and Explorations

In our Science department we have skillful teachers assisting us all the way. Explaining and providing theories or formulas in order for the students to have a better understanding of the outside world scientifically.

In Chemistry Lab, Mr. Leonardis thoroughly explains the procedure before any experiment is performed. Furthermore, safety equipment has been installed, such as, the eye-wash and the shower in case of an emergency. Who will ever forget Mr. Ciccone's joke or his theories of life?

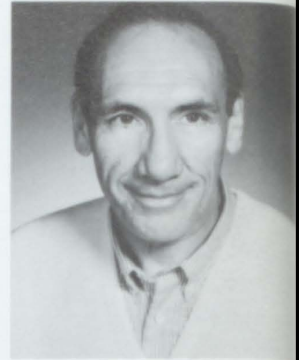

Not only do we learn of the scientific view of the world but its past as well. Our History teachers teach us the past and how it affects us in the present time. Although we studied for Mr. Bottino's difficult test we accomplished a feeling of satisfaction after receiving our graded papers. Thanks to their great efforts we will continue to grow as successful stars.

Helping Out

When we need books for an important term paper or a book report, we usually seek help from our librarians in the Media Center. Mrs. Gipson, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Rosenbaum are always ready with a smile to lend a helping hand.

Our Special Education teachers work with students on a one to one basis to help them improve their abilities.

Mr. Grant, our speech therapist, helps students develop their speech in a clear and accurate manner by having them practice exercise methods in sounds.

Our attendance counselor, Mr. McCormack, is always hard at work trying to continue the improvement of attendance at East Side.

Headaches and upset stomachs are a few of the problems our nurses must deal with. Mrs. Block and Mrs. White, our newest addition to the health office, make sure everyone's health records are up to date and provide physicals for students who plan to participate in a sport.

Informing students about the danger of using drugs is the job of our drug coordinator, Mr. Wichowski.

No matter what the problem, this fine group is always ready to help out.

Helpful Hands

Always giving assistance to make East Side a good and clean school are a lot of people working cooperately together as a team.

The secretaries begin their task every morning typing the daily bulletin or the absent list, obtaining information for teachers and aiding students and parents.

Our custodians maintain the school efficiently, keeping the boilers working, the school comfortable and clean in order to create a working environment.

Mr. Roberts along with our cafeteria workers see to it that the students and faculty receive a satisfying and nutritious meal from the four food groups.

The security guards offer protection inside and around the school grounds. Nevertheless, they assist us during a fire drill or just opening the bathroom doors.

This team of people dedicate themselves to make East Side a continuing star of success.

SECURITY — Mabel Hardin, Barbara Hudson, Douglass Gordon, Marion Johnson, Maureen Lockette, Fanny Southall.

Faculty Get "Tied Up"

On March 21, 1986, the East Side basketball and baseball teams sponsored the annual basketball game between the students and faculty.

The teams taking part in this competition consisted of East Side's most skillful faculty players. They were split into two groups called Blasi's Bombers and Duggan's Dunkers.

The game ended in a 52-52 deadlock with no overtime involved because the fast pace of the game had the "older" teachers gasping for air.

The leading scorers for the game were the following: Blasi's Bombers with Mr. Gould in first place with 23 points and Mr. Malanga in second place with 10. Duggan's Dunkers had Mr. Duggan in the lead with 23 points and Mr. Cullen right behind with 22.

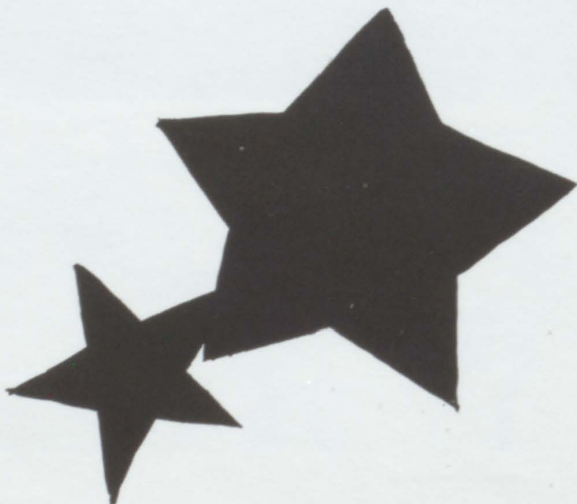

The effort given by the faculty was well-received by the students attending, who stood on the edge of their seats until the last second brought the end of the game.

Faculty members are to be congratulated for demonstrating their basketball skills and sharing them with the students. Hopefully, this tradition will continue for a very long time.

Our Deepest Appreciation

Few teachers have as much experience being an advisor as Mr. Chill. He has been at East Side since 1960 and has served as an advisor since 1963. His first graduating class was that of 1964. Since then, he has been involved with everything from trips to Walt Disney and the Poconos to Splash Parties and picnics. He has also arranged various sales such as magazine subscriptions, stickers, candy, East Side sweaters and stuffed animals. Who could forget the image of Mr. Chill running around the school advertising the Mr. East Sider teddy bear holding a banner saying "Class of 87 and proud of it." In doing all these things Mr. Chill has restored school spirit and pride. Due to his tremendous effort, Mr. Chill is greatly appreciated by everyone who works with him. Mr. Chill makes many things possible for us and once again we thank him for his expertise and most of all, his caring.

Mr. Chill, senior class advisor.

Most students will certainly remember Manny Da Cruz, the student who sat in the back of the class and didn't say much. Despite his introverted personality, however, he has been noted for his intelligence and friendliness.

Manny is a member of the Iron-bound boys and girls club and participates in our school's honor society activities.

On his free time he enjoys outdoor sports in bicycling and swimming. At other times he likes to enjoy relaxing moments creating artwork or listening to music. He also holds a part-time job at Penn Pharmacy.

Manny plans to pursue a career in aviation with his talent for math, he is sure to do well in this field. With his varied talents we know Manny will be flying high in whatever he finally pursues.

Manuel Da Cruz, better known as smiley, ranks number ten.

All American!

Carlos Martins is a very unique athlete. As he stated, "It all started back in 1984, after I placed 12th in the annual Easter race."

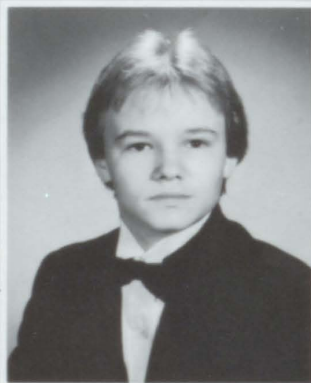

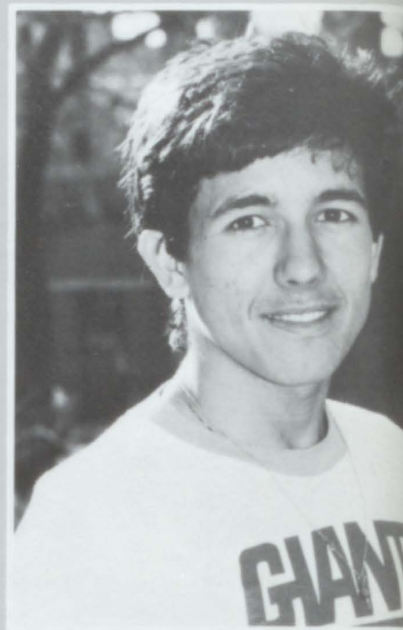

He has enjoyed a story-book season, he was undefeated in state competition and became state champion for 1986 in cross-country. He also took part in the Kinneys Cross-Country Championships, where he finished 2nd in the northeast region qualifying for the national race held in San Diego. In California, Carlos completed the course in 10th place, in the field of the 32 best runners in the nation, thus being named 2nd team All-American.

Carlos is also a member of the Portuguese running Club, Den of Lions, which he has been part of for two years. While competing for the Den of Lions, he was first in the qualifying round for the eastern section of the Junior Olympics, and won a bronze medal in the national race held in California.

Carlos owns the school record in the 2-mile-outdoor track at 9:18, and the county record in the 3.1 mile cross-country course, which stands at 15:05.

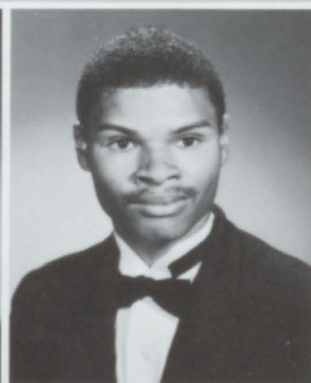

Carlos Martins' ultimate goal in his athletic career is to win a gold medal in the Olympics, just as his idol Carlos Lopes did in the 1984 Summer Olympics, and be known as the best runner in the entire world.

Francisco Mendonca is perhaps one of the most actively involved seniors, both in school and community. His school activities have consisted of the Student Council, Executive Board, Portuguese Club, Civics Club, Library Club, and the Leadership Group sponsored by the Board of Education as well as editor of ads for the Torch.

One of Francisco's most interesting activities was the mural painting at St. James Hospital. Several times during the year, Francisco along with other interested students, painted cartoon characters on the walls of the pediatrics ward in hope of brightening the environment for the patients.

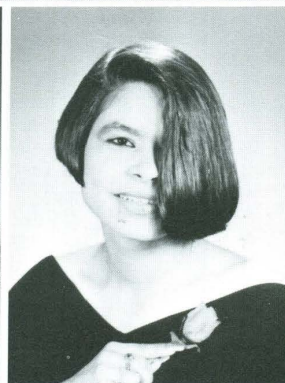

Francisco's outside activities have included the Explorers, being a hospital volunteer, and a tutor at the Ironbound Educational Center. He has also participated in the Close-Up and Boys' State Programs and he is included in Who's Who Among American High School students.

Plans for the future include Upsala and pre-law courses. Whatever he does, we wish him luck and success.

Future Executive

As Olga graduates she will know that she has made the best of her four years at East Side. She has a special talent for organizing time which has enabled her to take part in numerous activities. Olga is President of the Executive Board of the Student Council, Senior Class Treasurer, Tesselations Club Treasurer, Honor Society Treasurer, and Faculty Co-Editor of our yearbook. She is also a Literary Magazine typist, civics club member and is on the Guidance Advisory Board.

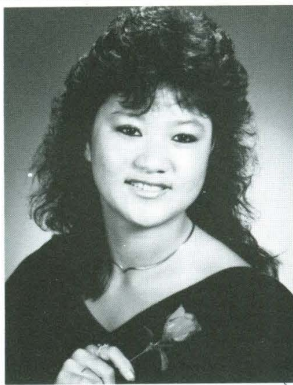

Olga is an active member of our community and is health conscious. On weekends she tutors children in religion, participates in the church choir and works out at New Woman — a health spa.

Apart from all these activities she holds a part-time job as a dentist's receptionist.

Olga's future plans include Monmouth College with a major in Business Administration and minor in foreign language. With her various talents we know she will be successful.

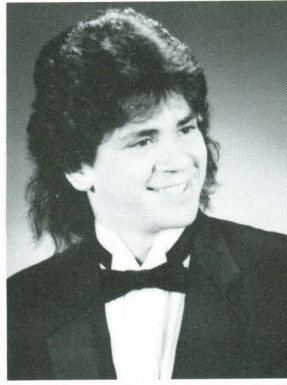

Olga Valente is both school involved and academically talented.

Alda Sardo, Francisco Mendonca, and Luis Santos had the opportunity to live in Washington, D.C. for a week through the Close Up program sponsored by the Board of Education.

The trip began in December with a two day visit to Trenton for a look at the state government and federal buildings.

On a Sunday in March the students left Newark by train and headed for the Twin Bridges Hotel just outside the nation's capital.

Each East Sider shared his or her room with a student from Washington State. From this there developed friendships that may last a lifetime.

During their busy week Luis, Francisco, and Alda visited Federal Buildings, monuments, and Crystal City.

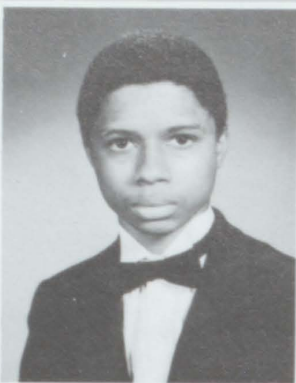

At Capitol Hill they attended seminars with prominent members of different career fields, attended a debate, and were given an insight into the different law making bodies.

During his free time Luis Santos saw an off Broadway production at Ford's Theater while Alda went souvenir hunting with her newly made friends. The highlight of the program came towards the end of the week when students had the opportunity to hear the president and ask him questions.

Finally, students visited Williamsburg, Virginia, a restored colonial village. Upon returning to D.C. everyone enjoyed a final dinner at Washington's Presidential Hotel and then attended a memorable farewell dance.

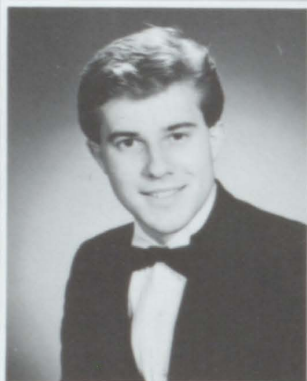

On Saturday morning the students left Washington, D.C. and solemnly returned to Newark. Alda said, "It was a beautiful experience." Indeed it was a learning and fun event which we hope many more students have the opportunity to enjoy.

Alda Sardo has high hopes in the world of pharmaceuticals.

An Independent Lady

Alda Sardo, who ranks number seven has always been known to go at her own pace and create her own style. She has strong values and a friendly personality. This is evident as she interacts with fellow students in clubs such as the Civics Club, Honor Society, Portuguese Club and Portuguese Literary Magazine. Alda is also a senior class homeroom representative and participated in Rutger's Saturday Academy.

Her most memorable experience while in high school came when she took part in the Close Up program for one week in Washington D.C. She stated, "I wish I could go back there. It was a learning and fun experience."

Apart from her academic achievements, Alda holds two part-time jobs. On weekends she works as a receptionist in a video store and on weekdays she operates a computer at a local pharmacy. She loves creative writing and during her free time enjoys reading and listening to music.

Alda is pretty set on her plans for the future. She will be attending Rutgers College of Pharmacy in New Brunswick and hopes to become a successful pharmacist.

Measuring Up To Graduation

The measuring for caps and gowns at East Side has always been symbolic of the upcoming graduation. With this procedure, which takes place in February during gym periods, comes an awareness that time spent at East Side is limited and within four months seniors will be marching down the aisle to receive their diplomas. Boys will be wearing red gowns and girls will be in white ones. All students will have caps with red and white tassels while Honor Society students are given an additional gold tassel to symbolize their achievements. Students will keep their caps and gowns as they are covered by the student dues. Years from now students will remember graduation more than the day they waited in line to step up and be measured, but that is where it all started.

Being measured for caps and gowns in the Boy's Gym is Wilfredo Jimenez.

Future Leaders

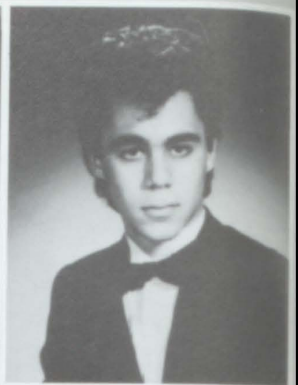

Four boys were chosen from East Side for their excellence in academics, athletics, or in extra-curricular activities, to represent Essex County in the Boys' State Program held at Rider College. This program was designed to make the students more aware of how our government works.

Upon arrival at the college each boy was placed in different dormitories. The dormitories then came to represent different cities and two cities then formed a country. Because of these accommodations the participants were able to meet and make friends with boys from different life styles and back-grounds while participating in mock court cases, campaigns, legislative sessions, and municipal court hearings.

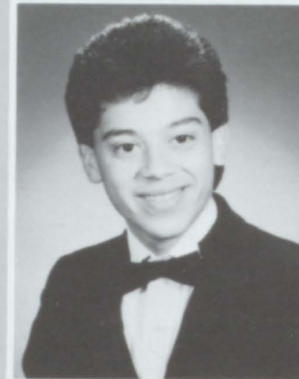

The boys rose at 6:30 and followed a rigorous schedule of seminars and sports. Towards the end of the week some participants put on a concert and a newspaper of the events was published. Wilfredo Jiminez chosen for his excelleration in sports stated, "It was one of the best experiences in my life, it made me proud to be an American." David Fortenberry added that the program taught them not only about government and politics, but also about how to get along with and understand people from different backgrounds.

The Right Type

Silvia Ferreira, the only Business Major student in the top ten has what is needed to succeed in the business world. She was awarded the Katherine Gibbs leadership award and won second place in the essay contest titled "Freedom, Our Most Precious Heritage." In addition, she has been awarded a tutoring certificate for her contribution to the Ironbound Educational and Cultural Center Youth Council. Other school activities include the Portuguese Club and the National Honor Society.

Unlike those students enrolled in college preparatory courses such as Calculus and Chemistry, Silvia has been striving for courses which will enable her to realize her dream, to work for a large corporation. These courses are part of an intensive secretarial program involving work with word processors, data machines, accounting, bookkeeping, and shorthand.

Silvia is undoubtedly very talented in these areas for she won first place for typing in the May 1986 Newark Business Olympics. This event was a source of encouragement because it enabled her to compare her skills with that of students from other districts.

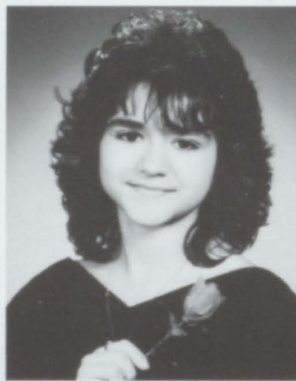

Silvia Ferreira, a secretarial student ranks number six.

Luz Matos: Rambo: First Blood Part II, Careless Whispers, Bon Jovi, Friends and Winterguard.

Three Superstars

Although we have many talented athletes at East Side there are certain outstanding players. This year three seniors: Luis Troche, William Castro and Frank Garcia have excelled.

All three players have been on East Side's baseball team since their freshman year, and each has contributed a great deal to the team.

They are currently co-captains of the team, a well deserved honor. Luis Troche plays centerfield and is the lead-off man in the line-up. "He has an uncanny way of getting on base," says

Coach Blasi. William Castro, another excellent batter, batted over .300. In fact he was given a special honor, he was chosen as the 1986 All-City 2nd baseman by the Newark baseball coaches. Frank Garcia is a quiet dedicated team player, he will be starting his second varsity season this year. "Frank came through when we needed something to happen," commented Coach Blasi.

We wish these three athletes much success in the future and hope they continue their athletic careers.

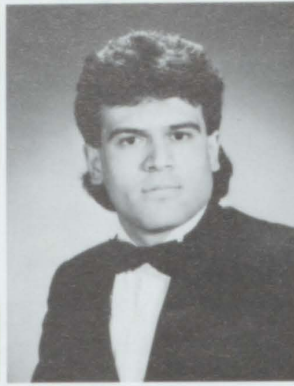

Margarida Matos: Top Gun; Friends and Lovers; David Lee Roth; Special friends.

Maria Matos: Grease; Diamond Girl; Bruce Springsteen; Friends and Winterguard shows.

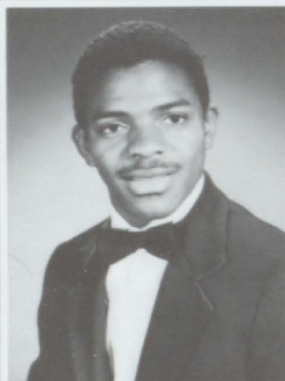

Paula Matos: Youngblood; Heartbeat; Don Johnson; Friends.

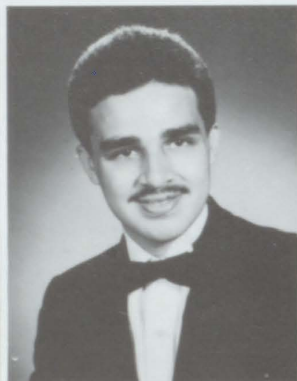

Paulo Matos: Top Gun; Lick It Up; Kiss; The women.

Kevin Miller: Return of the Living Dead, Move Your Body, Whispers, The athletics.

Carlos Gafanha is the fun loving student who ranks number five.

Well Rounded Student

Carlos Gafanha is the well rounded student who ranks number five. He entered East Side with a strong academic background and proceeded to strengthen it. As he did well in all his classes, he soon began searching for an activity which would hold his interest. Sophomore year he found that he enjoyed running and therefore joined the track team as a sprinter. Since then Carlos has dedicated most of his time to running. As a senior, Carlos is both co-captain of the track team and president of the track club, in addition, he runs for the cross-country team. As he enjoys it, Carlos plans to continue running while in college. Apart from running track he has also won the Human rights Day award for his involvement as vice-president of the student council.

His plans for the future include Rutgers University in New Brunswick with a major in Business Administration. Carlos has the initiative and wit needed for a successful career in a world of diverse competition.

Leadership Qualities

This year our number four ranking senior Maria Farinhas, is soft spoken and energetic. She has always held high academic standards even when graduating from Ann Street School. While at East Side she has excelled academically; socially she has been a member of the Track Club, Portuguese Club and class homeroom representative.

She is a member of the National Honor Society and has contributed her talent for writing to the Yearbook as faculty and student life co-editor. One of her most memorable experiences while at East Side was being chosen to participate in the Hugh O'Brien Leadership Seminar in New Brunswick, N.J. This gave her the opportunity to meet with other leaders from our state.

Maria plans to attend Rutgers University in New Brunswick this fall majoring in Business Administration. She will surely be successful in whatever she does because she is very dedicated and has set her goals as high as they will take her.

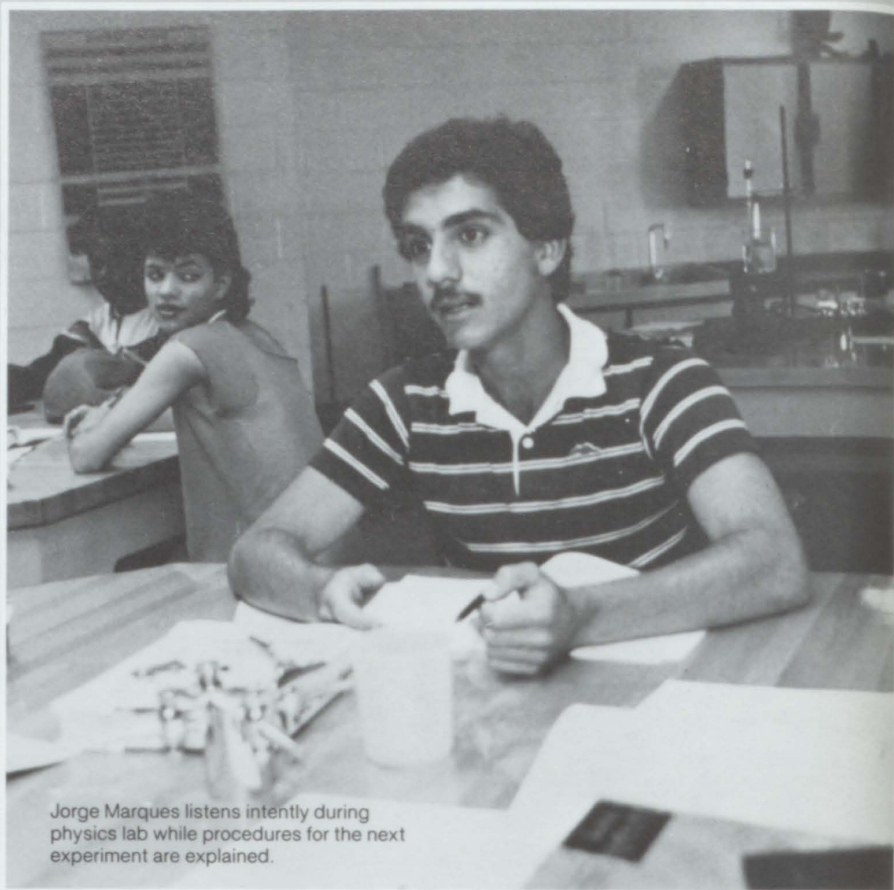

Maria Farinhas — Number Four Rank.

Well Prepared

One of the most competitive departments at East Side is the Science department. Upon speaking to a graduate of East Side I learned that she felt she was well equipped to cope with her college science classes after having been through the challenging science courses at East Side. The traditional course of study is as follows: General Science Freshman year, Biology sophomore year, Physics and Physics Lab Junior year and Chemistry and Chemistry Lab senior year.

Perhaps the most memorable times in science were spent with Ms. Gonelli on a biology field trip to Sandy Hook, Mr. Andraous's lab experiments and the very particular odors formed by the different substances in chemistry lab.

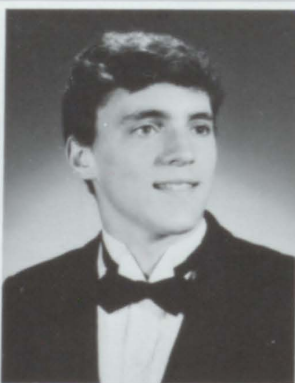

East Side's science department should be noted for its excellence and the teachers appreciated for their dedication.

Jorge Marques listens intently during physics lab while procedures for the next experiment are explained.

Maria Oliveira: Pretty in Pink, Glory of Love, Wham, hanging out with my friends and homeroom 412.

Paul Oliveira: The Fly, Genesis, Phil Collins, Mr. Neves and the soccer team.

Ingrid Ortiz: Soul Men, Speculation, Colonel Abrams, friends and good times.

Lisette Ortiz: Aliens, Endless Love, ElDebarge, my freshman and senior year, I'll miss all my friends.

Robert Pachana: Muppets Take Manhattan, Jersey Girl, Bruce Springsteen, M 36, homeroom, Lunch, art classes.

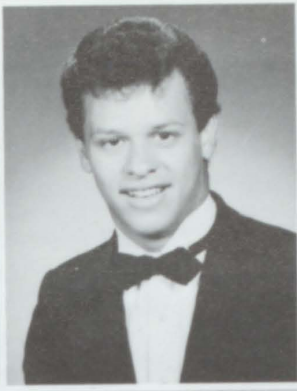

Elisa Padilla: E.T., Walking in the Rain, Lionel Richie, Summer '86, good times with friends: knowledge is power: kill the birds.

Vera Pagan: Weird Science, Sweet Love, Lionel Richie, falling in love with Jose.

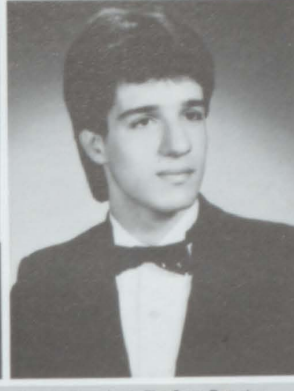

Manuel Palhares: Fast Times at Richmond High, Lay it Down, Ratt, Rahway prison.

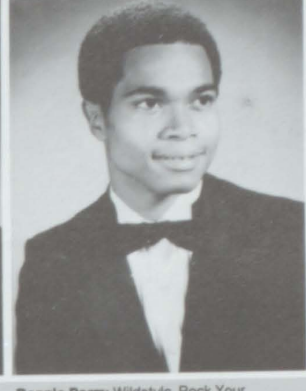

Richard Palleja

Antonio Parda: Bachelor Party, Careless Whispers, Scorpions, friends — parties and girls.

Angelo Paredez: The Song Remains the Same, Kashmir, Led Zeppelin, the Karalle Crew Rule.

Ronnie Parr: Wildstyle, Rock Your Body, Mantronics, the girls.

Rul Parreira: Porky's, My Own Crazy Way, special friends.

Tawana Pascual: Outsiders, Can't Say Good Bye to Yesterday, Marvin Gaye, my friends.

Maria Paz

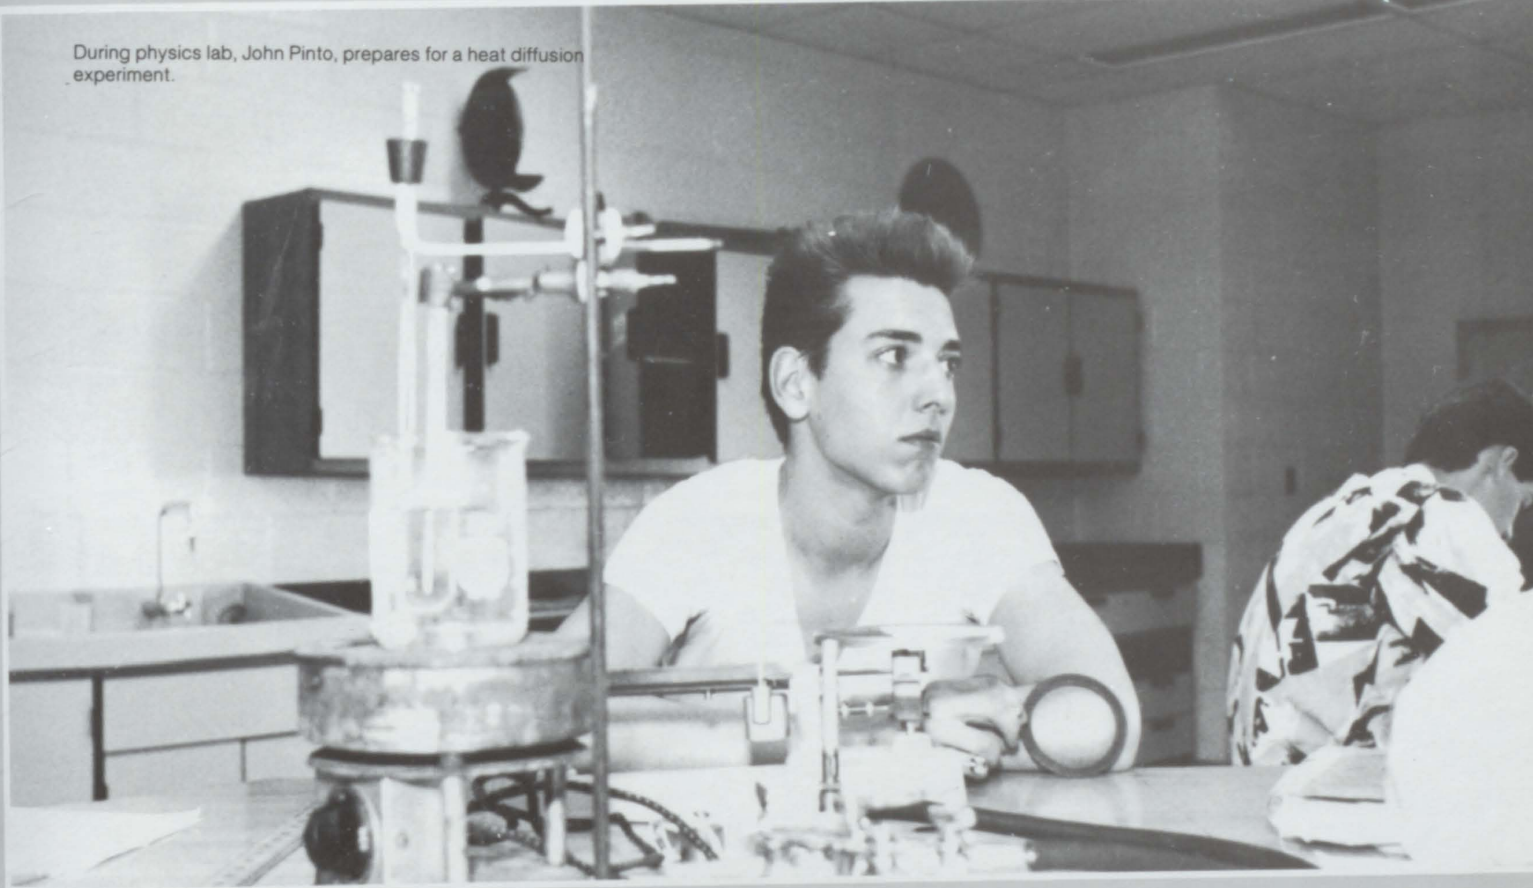

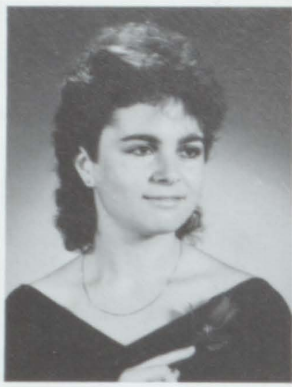

Maria Paz: Police Academy III, Querete a ti, Hombres G., my friends and my boyfriend Sammy.

Aurea Pedreira: Sixteen Candles, Stand By Me, Lime, Condo #16 in Vermont '86 trip.

During physics lab, John Pinto, prepares for a heat diffusion experiment.

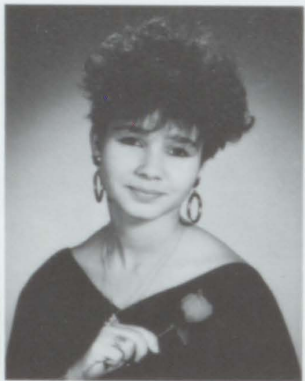

Aracelis Pena: Weird Science, Quererte A Ti, Aerolineas Federales, my friends Maria Silva, Eva and my first love A.R. 11-22-84.

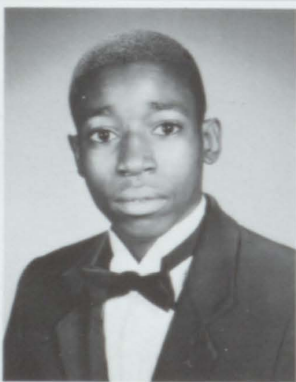

Marcelo Pereira: Commando, Unexpected Lovers, Phil Collins, being with special friends and my girlfriend.

Lisa Perez: Rambo, Diamond Girl, Jack Wagner, fun times and everlasting friendships.

Nancy Perez: Bachelor Party, If Only You Knew, Whitney Houston, meeting Xavier Figueroa Dec. '84, bugging out with my friends, especially L.A., MP...

Altonys Peterson: First Blood, Run DMC, it was fun while it lasted.

Jessica Petracca: The Champ, Running, Journey, good times with the animals and being with Abel.

Short But Sweet

Whoever stated that good things come in small packages was certainly correct when it comes to Maria Malheiro. This 4'9" energetic senior ranks number three among her peers.

Maria is a very dedicated student and has of course been named a member of the National Honor Society. Apart from being an exceptional student and holding a part-time job she also takes time out to participate in various school activities. She is on the newspaper and literary magazine staffs as a typist and is co-senior editor of our yearbook.

Her interest in math has also prompted her to join the Computer Club and Tessellation Club. She also takes time out for the Civics Club and is a homeroom representative.

All these activities have been demanding and it paid off when she was named a Garden State Distinguished Scholar and student of the month. It was an honor which proved to Maria that all her hard work was worth something and even gave her extra enthusiasm.

Maria would like to become a computer engineer with a degree from Stevens Institute of Technology. We wish her luck in whatever she does.

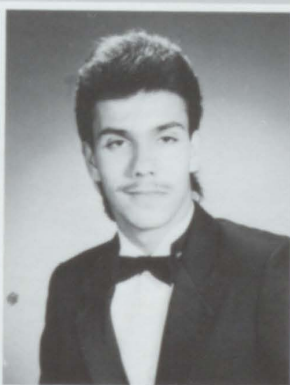

Maria Malheiro is the short but talented girl who ranks number three.

Students listen and take notes during an interesting physics class lecture.

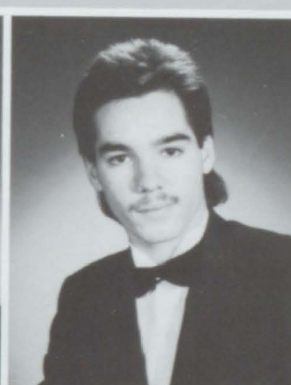

Leslie Pilgrim: The Fly, Words get in the Way, Pat La Belle, the good times in Mr. Jay class and my friends.

Roberto Polanco: Police Academy, Move Your Body, Run D.M.C., chilling out in the hallways.

Improving Our Scores

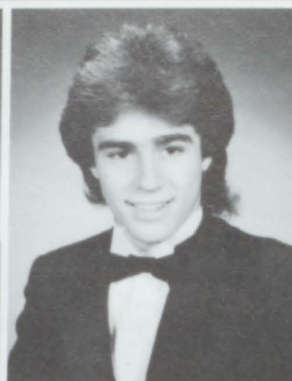

S.A.T. The three initials that strike horror in practically every high school student. We dread taking them and we dread waiting for the sometimes not so great results. Luckily, here at East Side we have the opportunity to take classes that will help improve our scores.

Mrs. Di Piazza takes care of the math section. She makes those complicated algebra equations seem simple, and almost always manages to solve for X. The English section is handled by Mr. D'Errico, who with his seemingly endless etymology lists, helps us improve our vocabulary. He also explains strategies in the best way to take "the test."

S.A.T. classes, however, not only help us score well on the College Boards, but also help us with our future. We learn about different careers, and different schools that can help us reach our career goals.

Victor Portela: Back to School, Still Loving You, Scorpions, roaming the halls and hanging out in the bathrooms.

Humberto Pouos

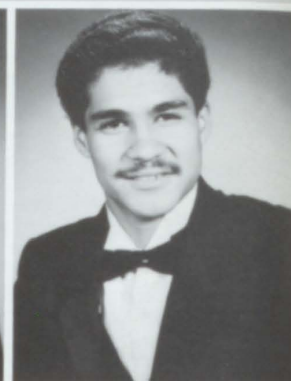

Pauline Pratt: Breakfast Club, Stand By Me, Pat Benatar, Captain of Winterguard, hanging out Friday nights with Kathy and friends. Kathy, "81" pg. 119 computers.

Excellence Pays Off

It is no surprise that Emily Nunes is our number two rank. She has always strived for academic excellence and it has paid off.

Since freshman year, Emily has shown ambition when she entered an oratorical contest in her English class. Sophomore year she won first place in the optimist local oratorical contest, and fourth place in the essay contest, "If I Were Mayor."

Emily has also been involved in many extra-curricular activities and clubs. She was President of the Sophomore Class, Student Council Executive Board Member, Dungeons and Dragons Club, Portuguese Club, Civics Club, Library Club, and the Tesselations Club.

Her talented ability for writing has led her to be a member of the Literary Magazine and School Newspaper, and she is recently co-editor of the senior section of the yearbook. Emily is also a homeroom representative for the Senior Class, and President of the National Honor Society.

Hard work and outstanding grades have led Emily to be named a Governors School Scholar, Rutgers Scholar, and a Distinguished Scholar of New Jersey.

Emily hopes to attend Drew and with her unrelenting energy and perseverance her goals will surely lead her to success in whatever she does.

Aspiring Business Executives

Every year the Business Olympics is held in a Newark public high school. The program is sponsored by local corporations and gives students the opportunity to compete in such fields as typing, shorthand, steno and book-keeping. Winners are chosen on speed and accuracy.

In May of 1986 the competitions were held in Shabazz High School. All the participants were given sweat-shirts, but Silvia Ferreira took home a black and white television set for achieving first place in the typing division. Maria Matos also won a television for having placed first in the steno competitions while Maria Cerqueira placed second in steno and won a portable radio.

We are sure these students will continue doing well in their chosen fields and hope the Business Olympics will continue to encourage young aspiring business executives.

Iris Torres: The Fly, All Cried Out, Lisa-Lisa, best friends, favorite teachers and good memories.

It is rare to see such ambition in a young student, but Nelson Ferreira poses it all. He entered East Side with a goal to graduate in three years. He has not only succeeded in that, but also at becoming valedictorian.

Transition from sophomore to junior year he says, "Was the most difficult because I had to leave my friends behind." However, he quickly attained new friends and established himself a true senior, respected and liked by his peers.

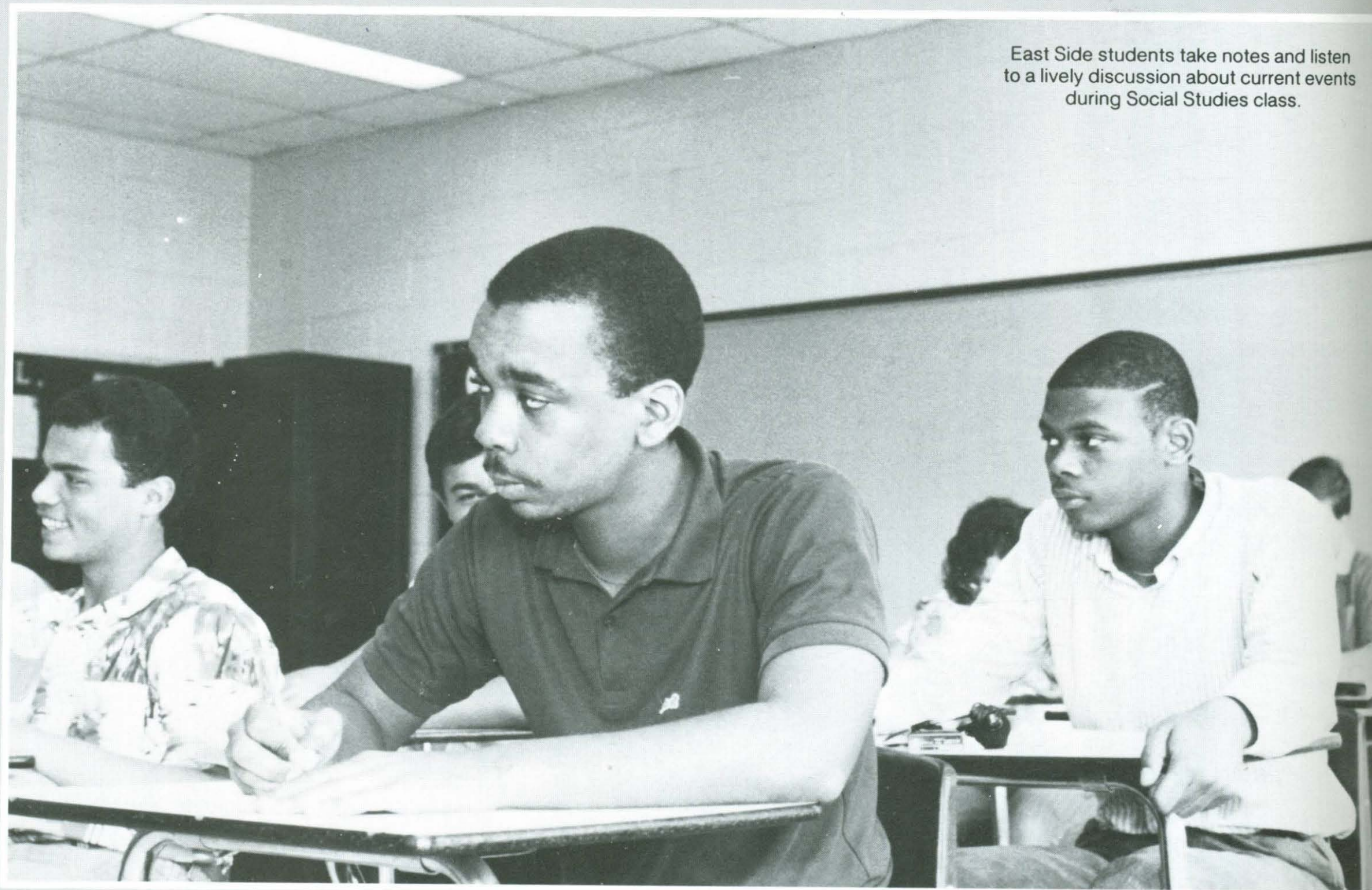

Nelson has twice won the "If I Were Mayor" contest, first as a finalist representing councilman Sharpe James and again this year as first place winner. This year Nelson has also won first place in the essay contest entitled "Freedom Our Most Precious Heritage."

Apart from his success in school Nelson also devotes some time to the extra-curricular activities in which he can utilize his writing ability such as being co-sports editor of the yearbook. Other activities include a homeroom rep. and National Honor Society member.

Nelson's dream is to use his talent with words to become a lawyer. He has applied to schools such as Harvard, Princeton, Brown and Yale. Wherever he goes he will surely be successful because of his ambition and the amount of time he devotes to studies.

A group of familiar street signs that East Side students might pass everyday.

COMMUNITY

Newark offers some unexpected wonders for any urban explorer.

But for the tourists, the commercial area, on either side of Ferry Street, will probably hold the strongest attraction. During the week, Ferry St. bustles; on weekends it is a shopper's paradise. Although most of the area is Portuguese and Hispanic, the atmosphere is International.

Besides the various commercial zones along Ferry St. the Ironbound has its well kept side streets. Along one of these such streets, facing Independence Park, stands East Side High School.

East Siders are very involved and committed to their school and community.

Students here willingly give of themselves to various related activities such as the Ironbound Peace Education Project, St. James Hospital Mural Painting Activity and Newark's 150th Anniversary Celebration — "A Shining Past and Brighter Future."

Because of this dedication and assistance Newark's Ironbound continues to grow and develop in a most positive way, making the Ironbound Community a very special place in which to live.

Eastward Councilman Henry Martinez addresses the honorees at the jubilee celebration.

Principal Robert Wujciak welcomes back the former graduates.

The oldest graduates at the ceremony, representing the class of 1918.

East Side Celebrates Diamond Jubilee

Forty-Five graduates from East Side High School were honored for their various professional achievements.

The ceremony, attended by various members of the Newark school board, Central office staff and family members of the honorees, began at 4:30 p.m. One of the most recent graduates honored was Frank Giantomassi, who practices law from an office in Newark's Ironbound, where he grew up and continues to reside.

Another East Side graduate on hand to receive an award was Milli Ricciardelli, who after graduating East Side began working for the Newark Board of Education. During her 30 years of employment, she served as administrative secretary to various superintendents.

Principal Robert Wujciak promised the alumni that the same standards that had moved them to succeed would be re-emphasized in the Ironbound School. "These people have come back to their roots," Wujciak said, "This is where the seeds were sown. The seeds of honesty, integrity and good citizenship."

The honorees were among 75 alumni nominated to receive awards for professional achievement that coincided with the diamond anniversary of the school.

Mr. Wujciak commended the alumni for returning to the school for the special event. A reception followed the awards ceremony in the school's media center/library.

and Clara

As a good education is more necessary to children than to such as have arrived at maturity of understanding, so the inhabitants of those countries have much greater need than the European nations of a wiser legislator. The greater their sensibility, the more it behooves them to receive proper impressions, to imbibe no prejudices, & to direct themselves by reason.

Love: Auntie & Desiree.

Lasting Memories

Do you remember September of 1983? We entered at that time a new phase of life as we walked through the doors of East Side High School. We soon learned that we had to take responsibility for ourselves and also to act as mature and confident young adults.

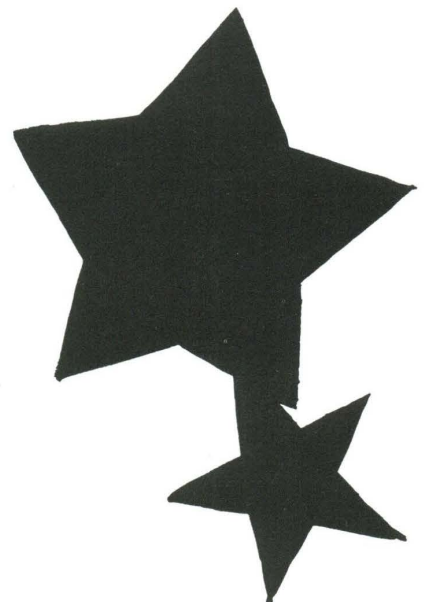

The years have passed and it's hard to believe that we are now finally seniors! Senior year is the year we all look forward to. Whether it's because it's our last or because it's the most memorable.

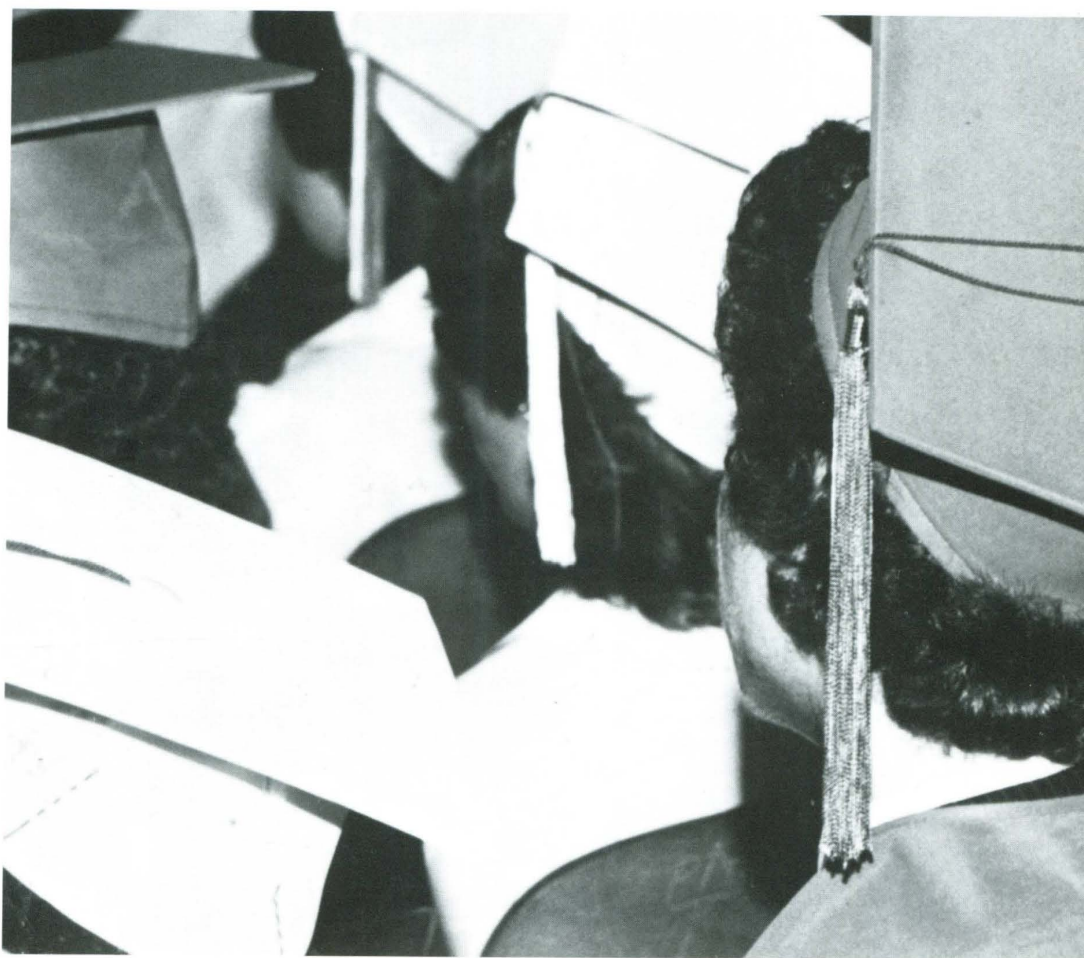

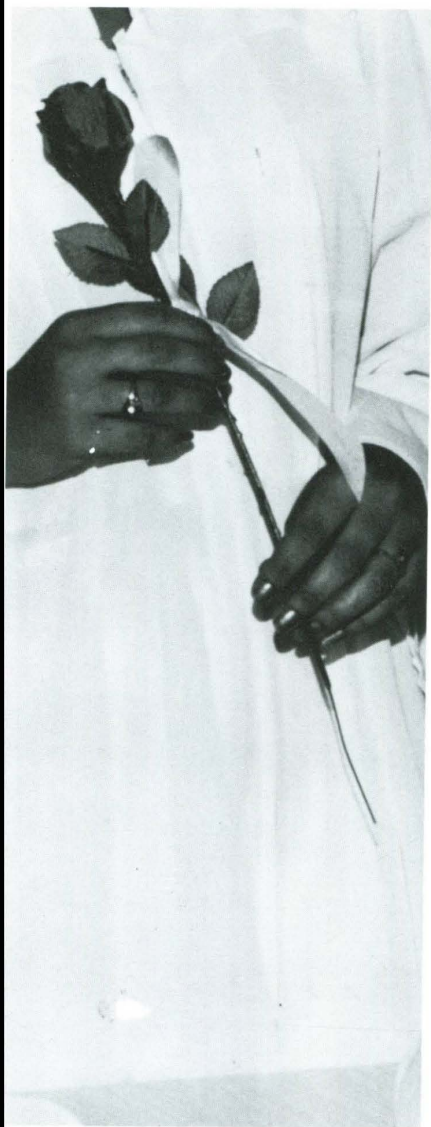

Over the past four years we have accomplished many things. We absorbed a great deal of learning, joined numerous school activities, made worthy friendships and most important attained self-achievement.

Our high school years will also recall the happy times we had together with our "family" of friends and teachers from 8:30 to 2:30. A period in time in which we spent many exciting and fun-filled moments.

Now, as we prepare to leave East Side, we face career decisions that will concern our future as to whether or not to continue our education.

Even though we will all be going our separate ways we will all definitely remember East Side High School and what it meant to us.

A lovely keepsake of graduation day.
The moment of expectation has arrived.

Looking Back

There is always something that occurs to make a year unforgettable. Its celebrations, victories, tragedies, as well as movie and music hits all helped to make an impression on us.

When 1987 is mentioned we will recall: Hands Across America, Miss Liberty's 100th Birthday, Hostages in Lebanon, Baby M, the Mets and Giants Championship Seasons, and box office hits "Top Gun" and "Aliens."

Now let's take a closer look at the events of 1987 that made them unforgettable.

In the World: David P. Jacobsen was released by pro-Iranian-Lebanese kidnappers in exchange for American weapons.

The Soviet Union freed Nicholas S. Daniloff, an American journalist accused of espionage in exchange for Gennadi F. Zakharov, a KGB agent facing spy charges in New York.

The Reagan Administration continued its grinding war with Iraq in one of the world's most crucial regions, the oil-rich Persian Gulf.

Corazon C. Aquino ended Ferdinand E. Marcos' 20 year reign as the Philippine president and she also became TIME magazine's "Woman of the Year."

In the Nation: This year showed caring when people of all races gathered from every state to join hands in an unbroken chain from coast to coast in "Hands Across America" in order to help raise money for homeless and hungry people.

New York threw a party in honor of Miss Liberty. There were tall ships and fireworks, with Elvis impersonators and other top entertainers performing. Liberty Weekend was outstanding and certainly unforgettable. It made people remember the Statue of Liberty and all that it symbolized for generations of immigrants.

The case of Baby M still continued as her mother, Mary Beth Whitehead battled it out with William and Elizabeth Stern, the couple that paid her to bear them a child.

Tip O'Neill retired after 34 years in the House and for the first time, the Nation celebrated the birthday of Martin Luther King Jr. as a Federal Holiday.

In Sports: The Amazin' New York Mets took the title of World Series Champions after defeating the Boston Red Sox in a close-knit performance of seven games. A title they haven't had since 1969. It seemed everyone, whether a baseball fan or not, was being "metsmerized" by the most exciting World Series in baseball history.

The winning spirit continued as a crowd cheered and chanted for the New York Giants as they defeated the Denver Broncos in the Super Bowl. They were welcomed home with a victory celebration at Giants Stadium as fans were given logo buttons and whistles as souvenirs.

In the Media: 1987 was a year for blockbuster movie hits. Top Gun grossed over $170 million, Aliens $70 million, Back to School $90 million, Crocodile Dundee $100 million, and Karate Kid II $100 million.

The top TV shows were: The Cosby Show, The Golden Girls, Family Ties, Moonlighting, and Growing Pains. Among the TV shows that made their debut were: The Tortelli's, Alf, and The Joan Rivers Show.

The highest rated syndicated special in history was Geraldo Rivera's discovery of Al Capone's milk bottles and the most talked about and admired TV personalities were Oprah Winfrey with her talk show on debatable issues and Bruce Willis with his slapstick comedy, good looks and new haircut (which started a whole new trend), had women falling head over heels for him.

The marriages that made big headlines were Maria Shriver to Arnold

Schwarzenegger, Caroline Bouvier Kennedy to Edwin A. Schlossberg, Tatum O'Neal to John McEnroe and "The Royal Wedding" of Sarah (Fergie) Ferguson to Prince Andrew of England.

This year was also rocking when Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band released their 40-song album, Live/1975-85. It became the fastest selling multiple-record set in history with advanced orders of more than 1.5 million.

Whitney Houston swept six out of nine nominations at The American Music Awards, while Janet Jackson received only two.

There was also a time of mourning as we had to bid farewell to Cary Grant who starred in such movie classics as "Notorious" and "North by Northwest" and to Desi Arnaz who became famous with his wife Lucille Ball.

Elsewhere in America: It seemed everyone was running out and buying a Hyundai, Yugo, or Nissan car which surpassed $170 billion, a record.

In Memphis, TN, it marked the 10th anniversary of Elvis Presley's death and fans by the thousands gathered at Graceland to pay tribute.

In Newark, N.J., Sharpe James defeated Kenneth A. Gibson (in office since 1970) to become Mayor of Newark and East Ward Councilman, Henry Martinez became President of the City Council.

The latest craze among teenagers in fashion was: sweats, Big sweaters, W-I-D-E pants, scribble and graffiti prints, long, pleated skirts (to the ankles), leather and wooden jewelry, sporty watches, banana combs, hi-top sneakers, white and black boots with fringes and the 50's look.

This year will be remembered not only as our senior year, but also as a year of many special events which helped make 1987 definitely unforgettable.

The Torch is carried into a new century.

Corazon Aquino celebrated her first year as President of the Philippines.

Victory for the Stars and Stripes.

The New York Mets became baseball's champions.

Sigourney Weaver and her Alien.

Terrorist attacks continued in various parts of the world.

Credits

The editors and staff of the '87 Torch extend best wishes to the '87 graduates.

Acknowledgements

We wish to express our thanks to the administrators, teachers, staff and students who helped us in so many ways to compete this '87 yearbook. Working on the Torch gave us the opportunity to document our last year at East Side. It was indeed a challenge with hard work, hours spent, a strong and special commitment to do a job well.

Very special thanks are extended to yearbook advisor, Dr. Helenmarie Pellegrino, who once again, through her guidance, dedication, suggestions, patience and pushing made putting all the pieces together so much easier.

Colophon

475 copies of the 9x12, 1987 Torch were published by East Side High School's yearbook staff and printed by Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas. The book uses 80 pd. matte paper. The cover design by Senior Louis Rosario features the Torch with stars in red and gold foil in a stamped motif on a white base. Rising Stars is in 48 pt. Brush Lettering. The type used on the cover is Helvetica with different types used throughout the book. Tool lines are one or two point. Various gray screens along with original star designs are used in the book. The end sheets are red with '87 gold foil stamped on them. All senior portraits were taken by Lorstan Studio, Newark, N.J. The Torch is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and has been a second place winner in the Press Association Contests/Critiques.

Special Thanks are extended to Mr. Joseph Shoopman, Taylor Publishing Company representative and Ms. Shirley Vetter of Lorstan Studio for her valuable assistance and interest.
